New Castle Fund Goal Of $125,000 Is Passed

Workers Achieve Victory Monday In Biggest Drive

Total In Fund Campaign For $125,000 Will Reach Approximately $130,000 Is Forecast

WORKERS JUBILANT MONDAY EVENING

To a galaxy of star-studded civic accomplishments New Castle hung up another one Monday night, this one possibly the brightest of them all when the United War Fund Campaign was concluded in The Castleton hotel.

Working towards a quota of $125,000, the workers in the campaign teams turned in a grand total of $127,032.31 and even this does not represent the final total. There are still some subscriptions to come in and it is expected the final total will be about $130,000.

This was the largest voluntary subscription in the history of New Castle. Not alone that, but it was raised through the leadership and hard work of New Castle men and women. No professional money raisers were imported to do the job, neither were there any commissions paid for doing the work. The job was there to do, and New Castle men and women went out and did it, period.

Large Crowd Present
For the final report meeting of the campaign, the victory dinner, the ballroom of The Castleton was filled. At the speakers' table were the leaders of the campaign, and filling the other tables were the workers that went out and signed up the subscriptions.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Colder weather conditions are forecast for tonight in the local district.

Don't waste food. Food is one of the main requisites in winning the war.

Only twelve permanent detours are in force throughout the whole state of Pennsylvania, the current detour bulletin for the period from October 29 to November 26 reveals. The bulletin, which is issued by the Pennsylvania Highway department, shows a number of construction projects, such as the resurfacing of East Washington street, now completed. There are several bridges out in the Sinnemahoning section.

Frank Smith, watchman at Cascade Park, has put up a number of wreath houses at the park near the East Washington street entrance and in the vicinity of the superintendent's office building. After a couple of wreaths had raised a few brooms in the latter location, a woodpecker took a liking to the wreath house, and proceeded to "chisel" around the small entrance to enlarge it for its entrance. Mr. Smith seeing the bird's game, balked it by taking the "house" down and fastening some tin at the entrance.

High temperatures, which reached a point of 71 degrees on Sunday and 63 degrees yesterday, were but memories today, as the temperature dropped down around the freezing point and snow flurries began filling the air this morning. Last year's first touch of winter came on (Continued On Page Two)

RIDE HORSEBACK ON TRIP OF 3,000 MILES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Two weary girls were resting up today from a horseback ride that started in Buffalo, N. Y., last May 16.
Rose Kurek and Minnie Sperla who quit their war jobs at a Buffalo airplane factory because of their health, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. Not a single mishap had marred the 3,000-mile trip.
"The doctors advised us to go west," Miss Sperla explained. "We didn't want to be bothered with gas coupons so we sold our cars and bought the nags."

Japs Are Facing Possible Disaster In Pacific Zones

Secretary Knox Says Japanese Position In Southwest Pacific Most Critical

TELLS OF SITUATION AT NEWS CONFERENCE

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Secretary of the Navy Knox asserted today that the Japanese are in a more critical position than they have ever been in the south and southwest Pacific battle area and that the Japanese may be facing another military disaster.
"A conservative survey permits us to say that the Japanese are in a more critical position than they have ever been in that area," Knox said. "Now it is no longer a case of holding their positions but one of actual survival in the south and southwest Pacific battle zones."

In his weekly news conference Knox cited as one of the highlights of action during the past ten days the destruction of crippling of six heavy Japanese cruisers in the attack on Rabaul by American carrier-based Navy planes and later by Army aircraft.

"To lose the use of six heavy cruisers is to the Japs nothing short of disaster," Knox said.
"If they don't look out they will find themselves short of these very vital heavy craft when they want to go to sea with their entire fleet," the secretary added.

Knox pointed out that the entire offensive in the south and southwest Pacific was under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur but that Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., was cooperating with him in every possible way.

NAZI LEADERS PLAN SUCCESSOR IF HITLER DIES

Four High-Ranking Nazi Party Leaders Plan To Take Over Rule In Emergency

By STEN HEDMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 9.—Plans for a government of four high-ranking Nazi party leaders to take over rule of the third Reich in case of Adolf Hitler's death have been completed in Berlin, according to dispatches reaching Sweden today.
The quartet—Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Interior Minister Heinrich Himmler, Propaganda Minister Josef Goebbels and Reich leader Martin Bormann—were chosen to take over the reins of the Nazi regime, in case of their Fuehrer's death, at a recent meeting of Nazi gauleiters which was held at Hitler's headquarters.

The meeting of gauleiters was called ostensibly to discuss the war situation, but according to reliable information reaching the Stockholm newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, the question of succession was the paramount topic of discussions.
Succession has been an open question since the mysterious flight of Rudolf Hess to England. Hess and Goering were originally named by the German Fuehrer as his successors.

Under the new plan, the four-man government will assume all of Hitler's powers and duties.
Under the proposed set-up, Goering would become chief of the succession government, and in case of his death a new government leader would be elected among the remaining three. Bormann was suggested as Goering's probable successor in the event of his death.
Although Hitler's health has admittedly been sorely tried by the developments of the war, the dispatches from Berlin declare that appointment of his successors is not caused by any present fear concerning his condition.

Chairman Peter McGinty of the dance committee stated that the military band, usually held on Armistice Day night, has been set for Saturday night, so that soldiers from the surrounding camps can attend.

The ball is for all veterans, their wives and daughters, and arrangements have been made with Mrs. George H. Bolinger of the USO to have a large group of hostesses present for the occasion.
Dancing will be from 8 to 12 o'clock, and men from Camp Reynolds, Westminister, Slippery Rock and Grove City colleges will also be present. A well-known local orchestra will furnish the music.
The lineup of the parade will be made public tomorrow by Chief Marshal Suber.

Russian Advance Troops 55 Miles Beyond Kiev Now

Push Ahead Rapidly In Pursuit Of Fleeing Nazis In Ukraine

RED FORCES ALSO ADVANCE IN NORTH

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 9.—Red army forces advanced 55 miles west of Kiev today on the heels of German troops fleeing in full retreat westward across the Ukraine.
Motorized Soviet units spearheaded the deepest Russian thrust northwest of the captured Ukraine capital. This force advanced from Marianovka.

Along the highway stretching southwest from Kiev the Russians smash forced to a point 50 miles from the third largest city in the Soviet Union.
Clear Dnieper Banks
Other Red army troops at the same time cleared the banks of the Dnieper river below Kiev of Nazi forces.

The Soviet column sweeping down to the south have practically effected a junction with troops holding the Pereyaslav bridgehead, front dispatches said.
More than 60 additional towns and villages in the Ukraine were seized in the swift westward push to the Polish and Rumanian borders, an official communique said.

In taking Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, the Moscow communique said 21,200 Nazi officers and men were killed or captured 15,000 killed and 6,200 taken prisoner.

The Russian offensive from liberated Kiev has assumed the shape of a fan, with units of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army reported at points 45 miles southwest, 25 miles west and 35 miles northwest of the city.

Meanwhile, further north, other Soviet divisions slashed out from Novol to the west and southwest toward the Latvian and Lithuanian frontiers where fierce German counter-attacks were repulsed and more than 500 Nazis slain.

Berlin dispatches to Stockholm reported launching of a tremendous New Russian offensive beyond Nevel, designed to reach the Baltic States and cut off escape of hundreds of thousands of German troops facing Leningrad. From Switzerland came reports that the Nazi high command had ordered a general retreat from the Leningrad sector back to Estonia to escape the possibility of such entrapment.

Organize Huge World Relief Organization

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Representatives of 44 united and associated nations will sign at the White House today an American agreement establishing the greatest international governmental relief organization the world has ever known.

The agreement will bring into existence the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, the purpose of which is to plan and direct the administration of relief to the war-wrecked areas of the world. The White House ceremony marks the greatest gathering of diplomats ever witnessed in Washington for the signing of a single international agreement.

Sponsored By U. S.
Sponsored by the American government, this new international organization is expected to represent the most costly experiment in history to avert the economic chaos which usually follows a great war.

One proposal is a fund to have the United States and other leading allied powers contribute one percent of their national income to finance the relief work of the organization. (Continued On Page Two)

Enemy Suffers Heavy New Loss Of Planes And Ship Damage

SIXTY-THREE JAP PLANES DESTROYED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, in the Southwest Pacific, Nov. 9.—The Allied campaign to thwart Japan's efforts to reinforce battered Southwest Pacific bases continued relentlessly today and a heavy new toll was added to the enemy's mounting losses.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the destruction of 63 more Jap aircraft and attacks on a heavy cruiser and two destroyers in addition to the sinking of five cargo vessels, a corvette and two barges.

The heaviest toll of Jap planes was exacted during a new assault by escorted four-engine Liberators on the battered New Britain island base of Rabaul. In the attack centered on the Rappo airdrome 84 tons of high explosives (Continued On Page Two)

German Weather Base Destroyed

U. S. Forces Destroy German Base Off Coast Of Greenland, Navy Reports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The navy disclosed today that American army air force planes backed up by coast guard cutters have destroyed another German radio and weather base off the coast of Greenland and captured two Nazi prisoners.
"The purpose of the German Greenland expedition is believed to have been to provide regular weather information for the German air forces," the navy said.

The base, on an island off the coast of Greenland, was bombed by army planes under the command of Col. Berni Balchen but it was not until months later that coast guard cutters reached the area and discovered the German station had been virtually wiped out.

Participating in the operation was the coast guard cutter Northland which in September, 1941, captured a trawler and destroyed a German radio station which the vessel's party had established on Greenland.

Eighth Army In Italy Moves Up Five Miles More

Vicinity Of Sangro River Is Reached By Latest Allied Advance

HEAVY RAINS HAMPER FIFTH ARMY AGAIN

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 9.—British Eighth Army Forces moving up the Adriatic coast of Italy advanced another five miles today to reach the vicinity of the Sangro river.

Limited advances were scored by the Fifth Army in the west which was impeded by heavy rains.

The Eighth advanced along the entire front in eastern Italy. Among the localities captured were Torino Paglietta, six miles from the coast and Torbruna, 24 miles inland. The forward drive to the latter point marked an advance of three miles.

In a one and one-half mile advance on the southern end of the Eighth Army front, British forces moved into the town of Pescocostanzo.

Seize Farnelli
American troops on the right flank of the Fifth army seized Farnelli.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said that although the Eighth Army met many demolitions, advances were scored all along the front.

"In the north we reached positions overlooking the river Sangro," said the communique.

FIVE JAP SHIPS SUNK IN HARBOR AT AMOY, CHINA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Five Japanese vessels, including a 250-foot destroyer, were sunk in the Harbor of Amoy, China, during an attack by Mitchell bombers of the 14th United States air force, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's headquarters announced today.

The Mitchell bombardment was carried out with fighter escort.

At the same time fighter-bombers scored near misses on an important bridge near Tientsin, western Yunnan province.

All of the American planes participating in the attacks returned to base.

Another force of B-25s attacked parked bombers and fighters at Kiangsham airdrome on Hainan Island and probably destroyed four planes and damaged many others.

Direct hits were scored on two hangars.

After leaving the airdrome, said Gen. Stillwell's communique, the Mitchells attacked a 250-foot freighter.

On the Burma front fighter-bombers supported Chinese troops.

Hope To Control Forest Fires In California Area

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Improving weather conditions gave hope that forest fires which had swept over nearly 30,000 acres of valuable watershed in the Santa Monica-Malibu area would be completely under control today.

A spokesman for the county forester's department set at $50,000 the damage to the watershed alone by flames which raged unchecked for three days. Another $100,000 was set as damage to buildings and improvements as more than 150 mountain homes have burned to the ground.

The blaze, one of 80 separate brush and forest fires in southern California, was halted yesterday only a quarter of a mile from the exclusive film colony at Malibu Beach.

A brush fire in Santa Ana Canyon, about eight miles south of the Chino prison camp, meanwhile was out of control after burning over acres and in San Diego county four major fires which had swept over 40,000 acres raged unchecked.

Can't Be Certain Nazis To Crumble Says Churchill

Still Face Threat Of Most Costly Invasion Before Climax Of War

HITLER FORCES ARE BADLY BATTERED

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Nazi Germany may crumble under the Russian offensive and Allied air attack, but England still faces the threat of all-out assault or even attempted invasion before the "climax" of the European war is reached in 1944, Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today.

Speaking as honor guest at the annual lord mayor's banquet in the mansion house Churchill extolled the Russian onslaught which for Hitlerism and Prussian military might "may well prove mortal."

Shows Confidence
His speech bristled with confidence—not only in eventual victory but in Britain's physical and spiritual ability to sustain whatever staggering reprisals Adolf Hitler may be planning.

The prime minister was forthright in warning that enormous losses will accompany the Allied invasion of Europe from the west.

"Unless some happier event occurs upon which we have no right to count and the hand of providence is directed by some crowning mercy," he said, "1944 will see the greatest sacrifice of life by the British and American armies."

"Battles far larger than Waterloo or Gettysburg will be fought. Sorrow will come to many homes in the United Kingdom and throughout the great republic of the United States."

"But," he cautioned, "it would be foolish and blameworthy to allow our plans and actions to be based upon the prospect of an early collapse of Germany."

"I am proceeding on the assumption that the campaign of 1944 in Europe will be most severe and to the western allies the most costly in lives of any we have ever yet fought."

Must Brace Ourselves
"We must all brace ourselves for that task and strain every nerve (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Huge Postwar Road Program

Plans For State Are Announced By Governor Martin At Pittsburgh

HALF BILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM OUTLINED

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—A 500-million-dollar post-war highway program was scheduled for Pennsylvania today in plans announced by Gov. Edward Martin.
The governor explained the plan, covering a five-year period, in an address before the 23rd annual convention of the Pennsylvania automotive association.
Martin said present plans include improvements to necessary through roads, improvements in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and other urban areas, and elimination of other bottlenecks in city areas as well as in rural sections.
"This plan," he said, "will give us the finest system of roads in the world. It will meet the needs of our densely populated sections and our rural areas. It will help our cities, aid our farms, our industries and our people."
Judge Howard Hughes, of Washington, Pa., presided. Warnings against government control of business after the war were voiced by other speakers.
R. C. Jones, of Washington, vice president of the National Automobile Dealers' Association, also warned of an early price ceiling and rationing of used cars, adding that the association had fought plans previously presented by the office of price administration.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE TROOPS 55 MILES BEYOND KIEV NOW

the Ukraine, the Soviets recaptured another important point, the town of Kishinev, Makarov, Bishov and Gomostaypol. Occupation of Koshanka showed a gain of seven miles beyond the rail junction of Pastova where the Russians cut the main railway artery of retreat to the upper Ukraine for countless thousands of Nazis hemmed in the Dnieper bend.
The Moscow communique revealed that the fighting for Kiev, third-ranking city in the U. S. S. R., lasted less than four days—Nov. 3 to the early hours of Nov. 6.
In addition to the tremendous casualties inflicted upon Nazi personnel, vast stores of supplies were captured or destroyed.
In the Kiev fighting Moscow said 12 German divisions (one motorized, two tank and nine infantry divisions) were "smashed and routed." So hurriedly did the Nazis retreat that the German dead were left unburied where they fell, the Russian communique declared.

ORGANIZE HUGE WORLD RELIEF ORGANIZATION

This would mean a contribution of approximately $1,500,000,000 by the American government annually.
The suggestion is expected to be discussed at the meeting of the administration's council which convenes in Atlantic City tomorrow.
Congress, however, must approve the financial contributions made by this government. It is considered highly questionable whether any such proposal would meet with congressional approval.
While the American plan calls for the expenditure of vast sums of money in the form of food, clothing and other supplies, the government's relief planners believe it will be a sound investment against economic and political chaos in the world after this war.
Following the signing of the agreement at the White House today, President Roosevelt will broadcast a message to the nation in connection with the establishment of the new organization.
The council will be composed of representatives of all the united and associated nations, but a central working committee will be established with members limited to delegates of the United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia and China.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—President Roosevelt today hailed the signing by the United Nations of a world relief agreement as a bold step in hastening "the day of the defeat of the Axis powers."
Mr. Roosevelt spoke to the representatives of 44 United Nations, gathered in the historic East room of the White House to place their signatures on a joint relief and rehabilitation document for aiding the starving peoples of Axis-occupied countries who are liberated by Allied armies.
The President's message was broadcast throughout the United States.
The Chief Executive declared that the feeding of the peoples in vast areas of the world that have been crushed under the Axis heel is a problem for all the United Nations and must utilize the production of all the world.

Bomb Raid Puts Ball Bearing Factory Out Of Production For 'Considerable Period'

ALGIERS, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The Fiat ball bearing factory at Turin, the largest in Nazi-occupied Europe, was a mass of smoke and flame today. It was listed as "out of business for a considerable period" by officials of the United States fifteenth air force following a 22-minute precision assault by Flying Fortresses.
In winding up its first week of operations, the Fifteenth Air Force thus wrote off its second major objective in six days. The first having been the Messerschmitt fighter plane plant at Wiener Neustadt in Austria. The latter plant was wrecked by Fortresses and Liberators on November 2, the day the establishment of this U. S. air force unit was announced.
Blasting of the ball bearing plant was regarded as an especially heavy blow to the German war machine because it followed the wrecking of the giant ball bearing factory at Schweinfurt in Germany proper by bombers from England.
Additional heavy damage was inflicted on railroad yards, round-houses and warehouses near the Fiat plant and Fortresses crews said they were confident that the Fiat aircraft engine and motor car works suffered internal blast damage.

At the northern tip of Bougainville, off Buka Island, medium bombers made two low altitude attacks on Jap shipping, sending the five cargo vessels, a corvette and two barges to the bottom. Allied fighter patrols strafed Jap Bivouac areas south of the bay. A dozen Jap dive-bombers attacked Allied shipping without effect and five of these craft were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

EIGHTH ARMY IN ITALY MOVES UP FIVE MILES MORE

W. Clark's forces from scoring limited advances and improving their positions.
In the air over the battlefield Nazi gun positions on the Eighth Army sectors were battered by light bombers. Trains in the same area were hammered.
Night bombers attacked a railway bridge south of Grosseto.
Other night bombers followed up a naval assault on Durazzo harbor, Albania. A large explosion resulted from a direct hit on a warehouse.
Fierce Battle
A fierce battle was in progress on the Fifth Army front for control of Mignano, important Nazi strong-point guarding the western approaches to Rome.
Eighth Army units to the northeast carved out appreciable gains along the Adriatic coast.
The left wing of the Fifth prepared for a final push on the port of Gaeta, to which the Germans already have applied the torch as the right wing slugged it out for Mignano, inland bastion midway between the coast and Isernia.
In closing in on Mignano, the Fifth seized the town of Calabritto, and just to the northeast clashed with German armored forces near Venafro.

Counter Attacks
The main battle of the Fifth Army front resulted from numerous severe Nazi counter-attacks a mile west of Venafro when the Germans threw in reserve forces in an effort to protect the Croce mountain defense point.
Almost in the center of the 90-mile trans-penninsular front Allied troops pushed forward slowly through the wilderness around Isernia against the sternest kind of opposition. The terrain, some of the most difficult they have yet encountered, also made the drive difficult.
From positions south of the Garigliano river the left wing of the Fifth could see bursts from explosions in the port of Gaeta set off by the Nazis in preparation for evacuation of the town. The main units of the Fifth on this sector stood but nine miles from the port. Gaeta is outside the ring of German defenses and it appears that the Germans now have little intention of putting up a real fight for the port.

The communique said hits or near misses were believed to have been scored on both destroyers.
At the northern tip of Bougainville, off Buka Island, medium bombers made two low altitude attacks on Jap shipping, sending the five cargo vessels, a corvette and two barges to the bottom. At Chabai 25 enemy barges were strafed. In this action a Jap fighter and bomber were shot down. Some Allied planes were reported damaged but all returned to base.

Armistice Day, and snow flurries were noticed on five successive days, the temperature dropping to a low point of 24 degrees during the spell, but bounced right back up into the sixties and reached a climax of 72 degrees on November 21.
Leaders and workers in the Community Chest and United War Fund drive which was conducted successfully last night, are deserving of commendation of the community. They successfully put over the biggest campaign of its kind in the history of the city, and did an unusually large amount of volunteer work in accomplishing the over-subscription of the goal. Striking success in the campaign is an achievement for the city that should cause gratification on the part of all who aided in the effort.

RUSSIA'S DRIVE CAPS ALLIES' YEAR

IT IS FITTING that Russia's recapture of Kiev, with the portents of major disaster to the German army, and Premier Stalin's prediction that "a real second front" in Europe is "not far off" coincided with the first anniversary of the historic American and British landings in North Africa.

Certainly the Red Army's superb achievements, the heroic resistance at Stalingrad and the great drive to the west—including the retaking of Kursk, Kharkov and Smolensk and the sealing of Nazi forces in the Crimea—represent one of the most thrilling chapters in human history.

With Kiev, "Mother of Cities," restored to Russian control, the Red Army continues to smash forward, toward both the Polish and the Rumanian borders. Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary would do well to get out of the war on any terms, for Moscow's amazing steam-roller is headed their way.

If Stalin is right about "a real second front" soon, the forecast bears out speculation in America and Britain to the same general effect, reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer. But nothing is to be gained by clamoring for a premature, hastily organized British-American invasion of Nazi-occupied Europe.

The fact is that the Allied landings in North Africa a year ago were the prelude to a campaign that developed into a tremendous factor in the beating back of Hitler.

In the hills of Tunisia America's young fighting men proved their mettle against veteran, battle-toughened German soldiers. In the seizure of Pantelliera and the Battle of Sicily America's growing air power gave the Nazis a plentiful dose of their own medicine.

At Messina, on the bloody beaches of Salerno, in the shambles of Naples and now in the hills before Rome, America, having given the lie to Nazi propagandists who boasted that the U-boats would prevent an invasion from overseas, has proved what a democracy can do in defense of its principles.

To what degree the Anglo-American campaign in southern Europe has aided the Russians by causing a diversion of German land and air forces is for the historians to decide. But this much is plain: America, Russia and Britain, in their own theaters of war but unified by the solemn pledges of the Moscow conference, are fighting with all they have toward one common goal: the utter destruction of Nazi Germany.

Until that goal is reached, whether soon or later, there must be no let-up in the onward drive.

FACTS WITHOUT SUGAR COATING

The United States will face the greatest economic disaster that this or any other nation ever has suffered "unless it finds way to put private capital at work after the war to a degree that will provide full employment," the Senate's special post-war economic policy and planning committee was warned.

The report was delivered by Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Democrat of Wyoming, one of the committee members, and was based in part on a study of the problem which he recently made in the West Coast states at the request of the committee. He asserted that failure to meet the objective he set forth would mean that the national economy would inevitably be regulated to a degree obnoxious to American citizens, either by government agencies or huge private monopolies.

"We had to adopt totalitarian methods to fight successfully," said the senator. "But control of our economic system has been concentrated, geographically and in industrial units, to a degree which has almost destroyed the ability of states and other sub-divisions to protect the economic interests of their citizens. It is to be doubted if the country realizes how the very basis of a free economy has been undermined."

On the matter of "incentive taxation"—taxation which encourages the establishment and expansion of business—he said: "If we believe in free enterprise we believe in the profit system. If we believe in profits we must make up our minds to make profits possible by encouraging the owners of capital to risk its investment. There are two enemies of profit, the Socialist who would have the state make the investments necessary to keep the economic machine running, and the monopolist, who would prevent any but himself from operating at a profit."

DEATH RAINS ON GERMANY

It is being driven home to the Germans that the time is coming when the United Nations will be able to strike through the air simultaneously at a dozen cities, rendering effective defense impossible. Taking to the skies in overwhelming numbers American and British planes have dropped thousands of tons of bombs on city after city in Germany, while at the same time pinning down enemy fighters. The effectiveness of Allied bombing raids has been vastly increased and plane losses have been greatly reduced.

It is only now that Germany is having brought home the price that must be paid for the crime of Hitlerism. Allied air power is still in process of development and the people of Germany have not yet been required to endure the devastation which ultimately will be produced.

It will be a matter of melancholy interest for Germans to learn that the "battleship of the air," powered to fly at very high altitudes, will be ready for combat in "the very near future" and that it will dwarf any plane now in use. The probabilities are that when Germany is occupied, the invaders will find great areas of the country that bear a close resemblance to the environs of Verdun, which, just a quarter of a century ago, presented a spectacle of horror.

Meanwhile, the Germans must endure the anguish of anticipation—of waiting in the certain knowledge that an overwhelming storm of fire and steel will rain upon them.

Epochal increase in Jap air power is called for in a Tokyo broadcast. The Nips are becoming flighty.

Ickes says there will be still less gasoline next year, which definitely does not belong in the category of man-bites-dog news items.

Jap ships are being sunk faster than they can be replaced, but according to all indications this will soon be one of Japan's minor worries.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PENNY MILK FOR CHILDREN

Of special interest to parents, as well as all patriots on the home front, is a 286-page volume, "The Nutrition Front," being a report of the New York State Legislative Committee on Nutrition, document No. 64. In it are illuminating data and articles on vital aspects of nutrition by outstanding specialists. Concerning school children, among the recommendations for New York State are these:

"Every effort should be made to continue the penny milk program and extend it to the many schools not covered.

"In the event of milk shortages or milk rationing, deliveries of milk to schools should be given priority, and should be considered as supplemental to the child's regular ration.

"If a full day's requirement of vitamin D should be added, as soon as practicable, to school milk. The cost would approximate 1-40th of a cent per half-pint of milk. More than 80 per cent of our school children have received their vitamin D helps to prevent caries and rickets. It would be cheaper to add vitamin D to school milk than to supply to school children costly dental treatment which, for the most part, consists of an attempt to repair the ravages of already existing caries."

Be it noted here that every leading publication on child care and development puts milk as the first article in diets.

The report recommends, concerning the school lunch program that:

"Every effort should be made by the state to see to it that the school lunch program is continued and extended."

The federal government should grant food priorities for school lunches and they should be considered supplemental to the regular ration."

Maternity Fund
The other day, the U. S. Senate approved, without a dissenting vote, an appropriation of $18,620,000, to provide maternity care for 220,000 wives of the lower grade of enlisted men within the next 10 months. Affected will be wives of service men in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh enlisted grades. That this bill will promptly become a law is practically certain.

All persons interested should make proper application for this assistance. The Red Cross is always a good source of information on matters concerning men in the armed forces and their families. I wish every expectant mother would write a post card to the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., and ask for the pamphlet "Expectant Parents." Those desiring a list of other literature for expectant mothers may have such a list for postage by writing at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q Do you see value in singing parties in the home by adults or youths or both?

A Great value. I wish the school would encourage it and educate children for it.

Sales Tax

Having cut down the ten billion of new taxes asked by the Treasury to a mere $2,000,000,000, the ways and means committee is back-tracking. Several levies previously agreed on, some of the new excise levies are proving unpopular, as what tax isn't?

The treasury had figured on getting about $6,000,000,000 from boosts of income taxes on individuals. The committee refused any, and then voted down a sales tax program. That does not say that the last has been heard of the sales tax. House committee action so far has been for the most part negative. Precedent and the recent mood of the House indicate that in the end the Senate will write the bill. At the last the administration may have to choose between taking a fifth or a quarter of what it wants, or accept a sales levy that would raise the new tax yield possibly to half of the treasury's original demand.

Administration aversion to the sales tax is not shared by the people, according to a Gallup poll. This shows that of those sounded on the proposition of a choice between the sales and increasing income taxes on individuals 53 per cent went for the sales tax and only 34 backed the treasury plan of raising the income tax burden. It is reasonable to suppose that the 13 per cent who expressed no opinion were not strongly against a sales tax.

The sentiment of the workers, as revealed by this survey, refutes assumptions that a sales tax would be unpopular as compared with other means of raising needed revenue. The white collar and skilled worker groups each showed a majority—31 per cent in the one case, 55 in the other—preferring a sales to an income tax. Even among workers outside the skilled group more (46 per cent) favored a sales than an income tax; only 37 per cent chose the latter.

At this stage of the political battle in Congress on the tax issue there is plenty of feinting on both sides. But when the legislators get down to final decision demonstrated preference of the voters for one tax over another is not likely to be ignored.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; omitted, at the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries, and we must take the current when it serves, or lose our ventures.—Shakespeare.

PROPER SIGNATURES
"Please write a detailed explanation of the 'Mrs. and Miss' problem in signatures. I am mostly concerned with when to sign 'Mrs. Mary' and when 'Mrs. John' and when merely 'Mary Smith' without the 'Mrs.' Also tell us if a man ever signs his title—'Mr.' 'Dr.' or whatever it might be."—S. S.

Answer: A personal letter should never be signed "Miss," "Mr." or "Mrs." A woman, always, with the exceptions outlined below, signs her name "Mary Smith." If the person to whom she is writing does not know how to address her, she should sign "Mrs. Smith" have (Miss) this in parentheses, precede her name. If she is married, she should add in parentheses under her signature (Mrs. John Smith). As I said previously, this applies only to those not knowing how to address her. The name or title in parentheses is not a signature but merely for informative purposes. The following are the only instances when a woman properly signs herself "Mrs." or "Miss": When writing to a tradesman, to a domestic, signing a business telegram, a hotel register or in some similar impersonal circumstances. She should never, under any circumstances, sign "Mrs. Mary Smith."

Mr. John Smith should sign his name "John Smith" eliminating the "Mr." If he has a title, it may be inserted underneath on anything other than personal letters, for instance "Major U. S. Army," "Governor of New York," "This may be especially done on hotel registers. A medical doctor usually adds "M. D." on a hotel register so that he may be properly identified, if necessary.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the country's most successful advertising agencies—they have sold millions of dollars worth of merchandise by mail—recently published a "check list" of some of the cogs that move people.

Here is what they said:

People want to GAIN: 1) Health 2) Time, 3) Money, 4) Popularity, 5) Improved Appearance, 6) Security in Old Age, 7) Praise from Others, 8) Comfort, 9) Leisure, 10) Pride of Accomplishment, 11) Social and Business Advancement, 12) Increased Employment, 13) Self-Confidence, 14) Personal Prestige.

People want to BE: 1) Good Parents, 2) Sociable, 3) Up-To-Date, 4) Creative, 5) Proud of Their Possessions, 6) Influential Over Others, 7) Gregarious, 8) Efficient, 9) "First" in Things, 10) Recognized as Authorities.

There are many other things, but this is a good enough check list for yourself, because in it are contained the elements that, to the popular conception make up SUCCESS.

I did a bit of checking of my own on that list and I agree with most of the "cogs" mentioned.

Of course the list has several shortcomings which, however, considering the imperfection of the human being, are quite understandable.

For instance, of what use is "personal prestige"? That's just vanity, isn't it?

Prestige, according to Webster is "the power to command admiration."

Come to think of it, I guess I like to be admired, else I wouldn't get such a glow of satisfaction out of your letters.

(Although goodness knows I get enough telling me what a numbskull I am.)

After all, vanity isn't so reprehensible. If it weren't for vanity we'd never buy any new clothes. We'd never be seen in expensive restaurants or ride around in chromium-plated motor cars.

Another thing in that check list with which I don't quite agree is that "Recognized as Authorities."

That's a big task to live up to—any authority must never make a slip, never let himself go.

However, these advertising authorities ought to know—I can do all the talking I want, they get your dollars and mine.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TELL THE TRUTH
Top-flight military leaders have given house members a grim accounting of the war since Pearl Harbor, a graphic picture that convinced many a Congressman that the struggle yet ahead would be long and difficult. As one representative put it, "General Marshall gave us the impression that when they grow up, it is seldom their fault."

A few salient points were revealed. The army men discussed the problem of Siberian bases for our bombers, the Pacific and European theaters of aerial combat, the realities of the Japanese manpower situation and the seriousness of our transportation bottlenecks. Needless to say and as one listener declared, the military men "debunked a lot of optimism."

Some of the information revealed may have been of a confidential nature, but most of it probably could be made public without giving aid and comfort to the enemy. The Army would do well to conduct such reports periodically, not only to the Congress, but to the American people. Excessive optimism and its accompanying evils are not confined to the halls of the Capitol.

There have been war reports, notably that of General Marshall, which contained more than generalities. But we could do with more frequent accountings of this nature. American morale is solid, and we do not require small doses of pessimism, but occasional reminders of realism will do no harm, and they may achieve a surprising amount of good.

Steelman Offers New Bond Sale Plan
Would Sell Securities Via Sales Tax
See Lack Of Support For Post-War Navy

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A new idea is an "incentive sales tax plan," explained by Curtis C. Snyder, representing Republic Steel.

Briefly, the plan is to tax all retail articles at the time of sale. The purchaser is given a receipt in the form of a stamp for the amount of the tax paid. These stamps are accumulated in the same manner as War Savings Stamps until a value of $25 or $50 is attained.

Then they become exchangeable for a low-interest rate, non-negotiable, non-transferable government bond; this bond to be redeemable not less than one year after the end of the war.

"The annual retail business in this country is $50 billion dollars," Snyder explained. "By placing a 20 per cent sales tax on all retail items, with a few exceptions like foods, fertilizers and feeds, approximately nine billion dollars could be raised."

Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., said he "liked" the plan—if it could be made workable. At the least, Rep. Knutson said, it might eliminate the setting up of another WPA after the war.

The United States now has the greatest navy of all time. But some more forward-looking junior officers are worried for fear that the indigestible tradition of secrecy of their higher-ranking seniors will result in lack of public support for a large fleet after the war.

These younger officers contend that the navy should enlist tradition with a little imagination, and release as much news as possible in order to give the men of the fleet the credit due them, and to glorify the part they are playing in winning the war.

Instead, the navy, which seems to cling much more to tradition than the army, insists on keeping its mouth shut, while the army, and especially the Army Air Corps, grabs the news spotlight and keeps hammering home the importance of what they are doing to win the war.

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet, has been blamed for the rigid censorship on navy news. There is ample evidence, however, that much of the news is throttled by men on his staff.

Many a good story gathers dust in a safe because some officer in high post believes that the enemy might learn something if the news were published. Some stories are kept locked up even after the essential facts have been broadcast by the enemy radio.

If the bottleneck on navy news is ever broken, the credit should go to a few far-sighted officers of the regular navy in the public relations office of the navy department, a few newspapermen who cover the navy regularly, Secretary of the Navy Knox and Elmer Davis, chief of the office of war information.

The occasional steak which you are able to find nowadays may soon have to be broiled without benefit of mushrooms.

As reported earlier in this column, OPA has been plagued by mushroom growers demanding a price ceiling on manure. OPA's finally have decided not to tackle this one because of anticipated public ridicule.

Mushroom growers thus may be forced out of business. The price on the fertilizer has almost doubled in recent months and they say they cannot continue to pay these costs and make any profit.

WBP doesn't have an inkling yet as to whether it will still be around during the post-war period, but a lot of its top officials are giving considerable thought to the problems of shifting from war to peace.

One of the toughest riddles to be answered is what to do with the tremendous production of metals that has been achieved as a result of the war. Steel output is at a record high of 90,000,000 tons annually; aluminum, 2,000,000,000 pounds a year, and so on.

At least one WPB executive is bent on working out some method of using all of this production in peacetime. His idea is to put an electric wire into every home for electrical appliances, absorbing the nation's metals production, raising the country's standard of living and furnishing post-war employment.

RICE
In some parts of the world rice is used in much larger quantities than in this country.

It is a very useful cereal. It is rich in nutriment, minerals and vitamins. The unpolished rice is far stronger in vitamins than the polished. The polishing process takes away nearly all of them.

The polished rice seems to be more popular in spite of the loss of vitamins.

It is just the same as white flour being more popular than whole wheat.

The polished rice has the same amount of nutriment as the brown does but it lacks the minerals and vitamins.

Rice may be cooked in many different ways. Combined with meat it is very satisfying.

Served with apricots, peaches or prunes, it balances the vitamins very nicely.

MOST OF MINERS BACK AT WORK

Some Strikers Still Hold Out in Western Pennsylvania, Illinois And Indiana

(International News Service)

Near normal production in the nation's coal mines was reached today with most of the 540,000 striking miners back on the job in the government-controlled pits.

Except in western Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana where some strikers still held out, most of the miners who failed to heed the back-to-work directives of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, were hand-loaders and motormen.

Ten mines in western Pennsylvania, employing 3,700 men, failed to open yesterday, and miners in five pits in central Pennsylvania voted to continue on strike. But this number represented only a small portion of the state's 115,000 miners. In eastern Pennsylvania an estimated 75,000 anthracite diggers were back to work.

Full crews were back to work in the Springfield, Taylorville and Gillespie fields in Illinois. In Franklin county, the state's largest coal producing area, near normal production was resumed.

An estimated 5,000 miners stayed away from work in Illinois. They included the Bensenville shaft of the U. S. Coal & Coke company, the Old Ben No. 11 at Christopher, the Valley Coal company's pit at Valer and the Franklin County Coal company's No. 5 mine at Freeman.

Lloyd Thrush, president of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, AFL, said all the union's members had returned to work. More than half of the striking miners in Indiana were on the job and the remainder was expected to return by tomorrow. While only 3,000 of the 12,000 miners in the Harlan county, Ky., fields reported for work yesterday, most of the men in that area were expected back by today. UMW officials said the delay was caused by the late return of representatives from a meeting at Jellico, Tenn.

In Alabama, where the strikers started four weeks ago after the mines were returned to their owners following the first government seizure in wartime, the back-to-work movement was nearly complete. An estimated 22,000 miners were idle in Alabama.

Nearly all of West Virginia's 130,000 miners were on the job. Near normal production, likewise, was resumed in Virginia, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Ohio, Colorado and in the far west.

War production was seeded up with the back-to-work movement of the miners. Officials of war plants producing steel and pig iron said that the furnaces which had been forced to close down as a result of the strikes would be reopened as soon as possible.

URGES AID IN WASTE PAPER SALVAGE PLAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Newspapers rallied today to the challenge of WPB Chief Donald M. Nelson who warned that a shortage of waste paper "threatens to slow down our war production."

Appointment of Edwin S. Friendly, general manager of the New York Sun, as chairman of the new salvage committee was announced today by Linwood I. Noyes, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Nelson's message to Noyes said: "For the third time since Pearl Harbor I am calling upon the newspapers of America to help the war production board overcome a raw material shortage which threatens to slow down our war production and delivery of equipment and supplies to our fighting forces overseas, as well as cartons and containers for essential civilian supplies."

American newspapers responded patriotically to my appeal for their support in obtaining scrap metal with their tremendously successful newspaper's united scrap metal drive. They are now engaged in a successful campaign to increase pulpwood production through their 1200 local newspaper pulpwood committees.

I now ask their backing to overcome a shortage in waste paper, the war material from which many implements of war are made. A number of plants are shut down or curtailed for lack of waste paper.

School Girl Dies Under Truck Wheel

BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 9.—Nine-year-old Doris McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick, South Heights, was instantly killed Monday when run over by a loaded coal truck while walking to school.

She was on one side of the road and her two brothers were on the other. The driver, Lester Irwin, South Heights, told state police he saw the two boys but did not see the girl. He said he was driving about 10 miles per hour.

Irwin was halted by the screams of the brothers and upon returning found his right rear wheel had run over the girl's head. Her feet were pointing towards the center of the road.

Police said there was an indication that she had attempted to ride the side of the truck and might have slipped underneath.

One German craft appeared in the sky over London just before the all-clear to the capital's 685th alert was sounded but it was driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

A few bombs caused only minor damage in an outer London area but no explosives were dropped on the heart of the capital.

Report 88,000 Autos Off Philadelphia Streets Since April

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Some 88,000 automobiles—35 per cent of Philadelphia's total number—have disappeared from the Quaker City's streets since April, the Office of Price Administration reported today.

The OPA based its statistics on applications for the new "A" books, which become valid today. Up to the close of business Saturday, OPA said, 161,632 new "A" books were issued by Philadelphia's 18 ration boards. More than 250,000 automobiles were registered in the Quaker City last April, a spokesman pointed out.

Report Rationing Of Whisky Planned In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has decided to ration whisky before Christmas, possibly before Thanksgiving, according to "reliable reports" circulated throughout the state today.

Gin, also scarce, presumably would be on the ration list, but rum and wine sales would remain unrestricted. Both are said to be plentiful, although state stores in many sections, especially Philadelphia, have little or no domestic rum on retail shelves.

The reports, said to come from quarters close to the board, gave no indication whether brandy would be rationed. Imported, high-priced brandies reportedly are more plentiful and less in demand than whisky.

Likewise, the report gave no hint as to whether cordials or sparkling wines would be rationed.

Under the rationing law, it was reported, each customer would receive four-fifths of a quart every three or four weeks. Taproom, bars and other public drinking places reportedly would continue to receive their present quota or 60 per cent of stocks placed on sale.

News Briefs From City Hall

Joseph D. Alexander, director of public grounds and buildings, reported he has communicated with Havens & Emerson, Cleveland, consulting engineers in regard to proposed improvements at the sewage disposal plant. As soon as practical the firm will send an engineer here to join in a conference with state health and city engineers relative to repairs to start next year at the plant.

James Gibson, head of the department of streets, said today that street employees today were working blacktop on the rails at the switch in West Washington street. The rails were too high for the paving and council adopted this means of minimizing the likelihood of accident. Further, the city intends to ask the State Highway department to repair the concrete slabs in East Washington which have broken up east of West avenue. The situation is hazardous to traffic. It is a state highway, hence the state is responsible for its repair and maintenance.

Hundreds of pigeons received the fright of their lives several days ago when several P47's zoomed over the business district. The pigeons which were clustered on roof-tops took to the air when the fighter planes swooped down toward the buildings. It was the first time that the planes made so much noise and being unaccustomed to the "big birds" the pigeons fluttered wildly and it was some time before they went back to their roosts.

Chief of Police W. G. McMullen today instructed OGD auxiliary police to report to Lt. Ray Hall at Pearson and East Washington street, Armistice evening to parade. They are to wear their A. P. outfits. Ford B-251 was reportedly stolen from Grove City last night according to a teletype received by State police. Last night was quiet in police circles.

It's Delicious!

Brer Rabbit Milk Shake

RICH IN IRON AND CALCIUM

Here's a delicious drink for children... and grownups, too. Rich in calcium and iron. Milk for calcium... Brer Rabbit Molasses for iron—the same delicious, inexpensive Brer Rabbit Molasses you use for baking.

To make Brer Rabbit Milk Shake, mix one tablespoon of Brer Rabbit Molasses with a glass of milk.

Scientific tests have shown Brer Rabbit is second only to liver as a rich food source of iron the body can use. Three tablespoons supply about a third of a child's minimum daily iron requirements.

A DELICIOUS TABLE MOLASSES

GOLD LABEL Brer Rabbit Molasses is the highest quality, fancy, light-colored molasses—sweet and mild in flavor. Especially delicious as a spread on pancakes, waffles, bread and cereals. A tablespoonful added to a glass of cold or warm milk makes a deliciously flavored milk shake rich in iron and calcium. Also recommended for cooking where a mild flavor is desired.

Impressive Job By Allied Ships

Haul Millions Of Tons Of Supplies To Forces In Mediterranean
Area

ALSO SHARE IN LANDING TASKS

By GRAHAM HOVEY
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 9.—Allied ships struck powerful blows against the enemy in western Mediterranean sea battles and performed gallantly in landing assault forces during the last year but headquarters revealed today that the most impressive job they turned in was hauling the million tons of supplies which kept the armies and all forces in the war.

Since British and American forces landed in Algeria and Morocco Nov. 8, 1942, the allied naval and merchant fleets including French units brought 22,526,485 gross ton of shipping into the ports of North Africa and Casablanca, a review issued at allied force headquarters disclosed.

Remarkable Fact

Perhaps the second most remarkable fact about the year's operations in this theater is the percentage of losses sustained by allied shipping through enemy action "inward and outward" and including amphibious and sea battle operations as well as routine convoy duties. It is exactly one point five per cent—a figure so microscopic as to be unbelievable.

Enemy merchant shipping sunk by submarines and surface forces total 527,000 tons.

Since the North African landings, allied submarines in the western Mediterranean have sunk approximately 430,000 tons of enemy shipping and damaged 70,000 additional tons while from the day last November to October 31, this year allied surface vessels sank, destroyed or captured 28 merchant vessels of 60,000 tons, five destroyers, two torpedo boats, one "E" boat, seven landing craft, two motor launches and three transport barges.

Light coastal forces "disposed" of ten merchant vessels of 37,000 tons five "E" boats, five minesweepers or trawlers, four tank landing craft and two transport barges.

The review disclosed for the first time that the French fleet which is assuming "an increasing part in the war" is now composed of 157 units aggregating approximately 300,000 tons, 3,000 officers and 50,000 seamen. It was also revealed that there are now 149 Italian naval vessels under allied control and approximately 170,000 tons of Italian mercantile shipping.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Ten divorce decrees were handed down on Monday, five of them by Judge W. Walter Braham and five by Judge John G. Lamoree.

Those handed down by Judge W. Braham were: Fae M. Critchlow from Harold W. Critchlow; Lavada White from Harry P. White; Hattie Jane Kamerer from Guy Francis Kamerer; Mamie F. Alter from Raymond Alter; and Betty Jane Ross from Bernard W. Ross.

Those handed down by Judge Lamoree were: Doris Maxine Taylor from Herbert M. Taylor; Agnes Gierlach from Andrew Gierlach; Raymond G. Crum from Minnie S. Crum; William R. Wilson from Katharine F. Wilson; Helen B. Blackford from Sidney A. Blackford.

JUSTICE AND REAL ESTATE

In the past two years the courts of Lawrence County have added a new line of business, that of selling real estate. In that time scores of properties have been sold by the court for delinquent taxes. By now Judge Braham has a general knowledge of the value of real estate in the county, what makes it valuable and why folks want to redeem it.

Each case is handled entirely upon its own. Many times a former owner has appeared and asked to purchase the property which had reverted to the county commissioners for lack of tax payment.

Sometimes the property is sold for the back taxes, penalties and interest. Sometimes, in the interests of justice and fair play, the property goes back to the former owner at a compromise price, which may not be the equivalent of the taxes, penalties and interest. If it does there is always a sound reason for it.

Judge Braham has insisted that the sale of any such properties be given the widest publicity. The sale is advertised and a day set for the sale by the county commissioners. A price is offered and this price is referred to the court for adjudication. A hearing is always held, testimony taken and in many cases judgment is withheld until further investigation can be made.

One example of the care taken to insure fair dealing is the sale of properties in West Pittsburgh which is now before the court. The commissioners set a day to take bids on 1257 vacant lots and 35 buildings in West Pittsburgh. After considerable bidding, Ralph Andrews bid $21,000 which was the last and highest bid.

The proceedings went before the court and Judge Braham took testimony. He then stated that he and Judge Lamoree would view the premises in West Pittsburgh to determine if the price was fair. In the meantime another bid of $25,000 is being made by J. Clyde Gillfillan. Before the sale is consummated there may yet be other bids raising the $25,000.

There have been cases where people have come in and offered a compromise on the taxes and the compromise has been accepted. This was usually the case of a home owner who through no fault of his own had lost his home and was now in shape to resume paying taxes. The court has held in such cases that the just thing to do would be to accept the compromise and return the property to the taxable list.

One thing is certain. In Lawrence County the sale of properties for delinquent taxes is strictly on the level. There is no hiding of the sale advertisement, no accepting a friend's bid and closing it out in a hurry. The sales are open to any person who wants to bid and in the majority of the cases the high bidder gets the property only after a complete investigation of the facts.

OFFICES CLOSED THURSDAY

Blames Justice Department For Walkout Condition

By WILLIAM THEIS

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Rep. Smith, (D) Va., co-author of the Smith-Connally anti-strike law, today tossed back to the senate and into the lap of the Justice Department the blame for what he admitted was failure of the legislation to halt walkouts.

Smith took sharp issue with Sen. Connally (D) Tex., who blamed the house-written strike ballot provision of the act for its inadequacy in the recent coal strike crisis.

"If Senator Connally hadn't cut from the bill its penalty for violation of the strike ballot provision it might be working satisfactorily," he said. "And I don't think any act will work if it's not enforced."

"Look at the recent coal strike. I didn't see the justice department do anything about enforcing the penalty against striking after the government has taken over a property."

Connally, he charged, "sabotaged" his bill by refusing to accept a penalty proviso directed against individuals or unions who failed to comply with the requirement for a 30-day "cooling-off" period and a strike vote before a walkout should be called. The house penalty would have denied benefits of the national labor relations act to such violators for one year.

War Drums in New Guinea

These are drums of war, indeed. The high octane gasoline they hold is one good reason for the steady beating the Japs are getting in this area.

The air forces doing the New Guinea-Solomons job are heavy users of gasoline, the naval units are heavy users of fuel oil. This gasoline and this oil come a long way from America—and their carriers are oil burners, too.

On the round trip to Australasia, each Liberty Ship consumes about 400,000 gallons of fuel oil. The gasoline they deliver vanishes at a rate that would amaze the average motorist. Fighter planes need some 100 gallons of high octane gasoline an hour; heavy bombers more than 200.

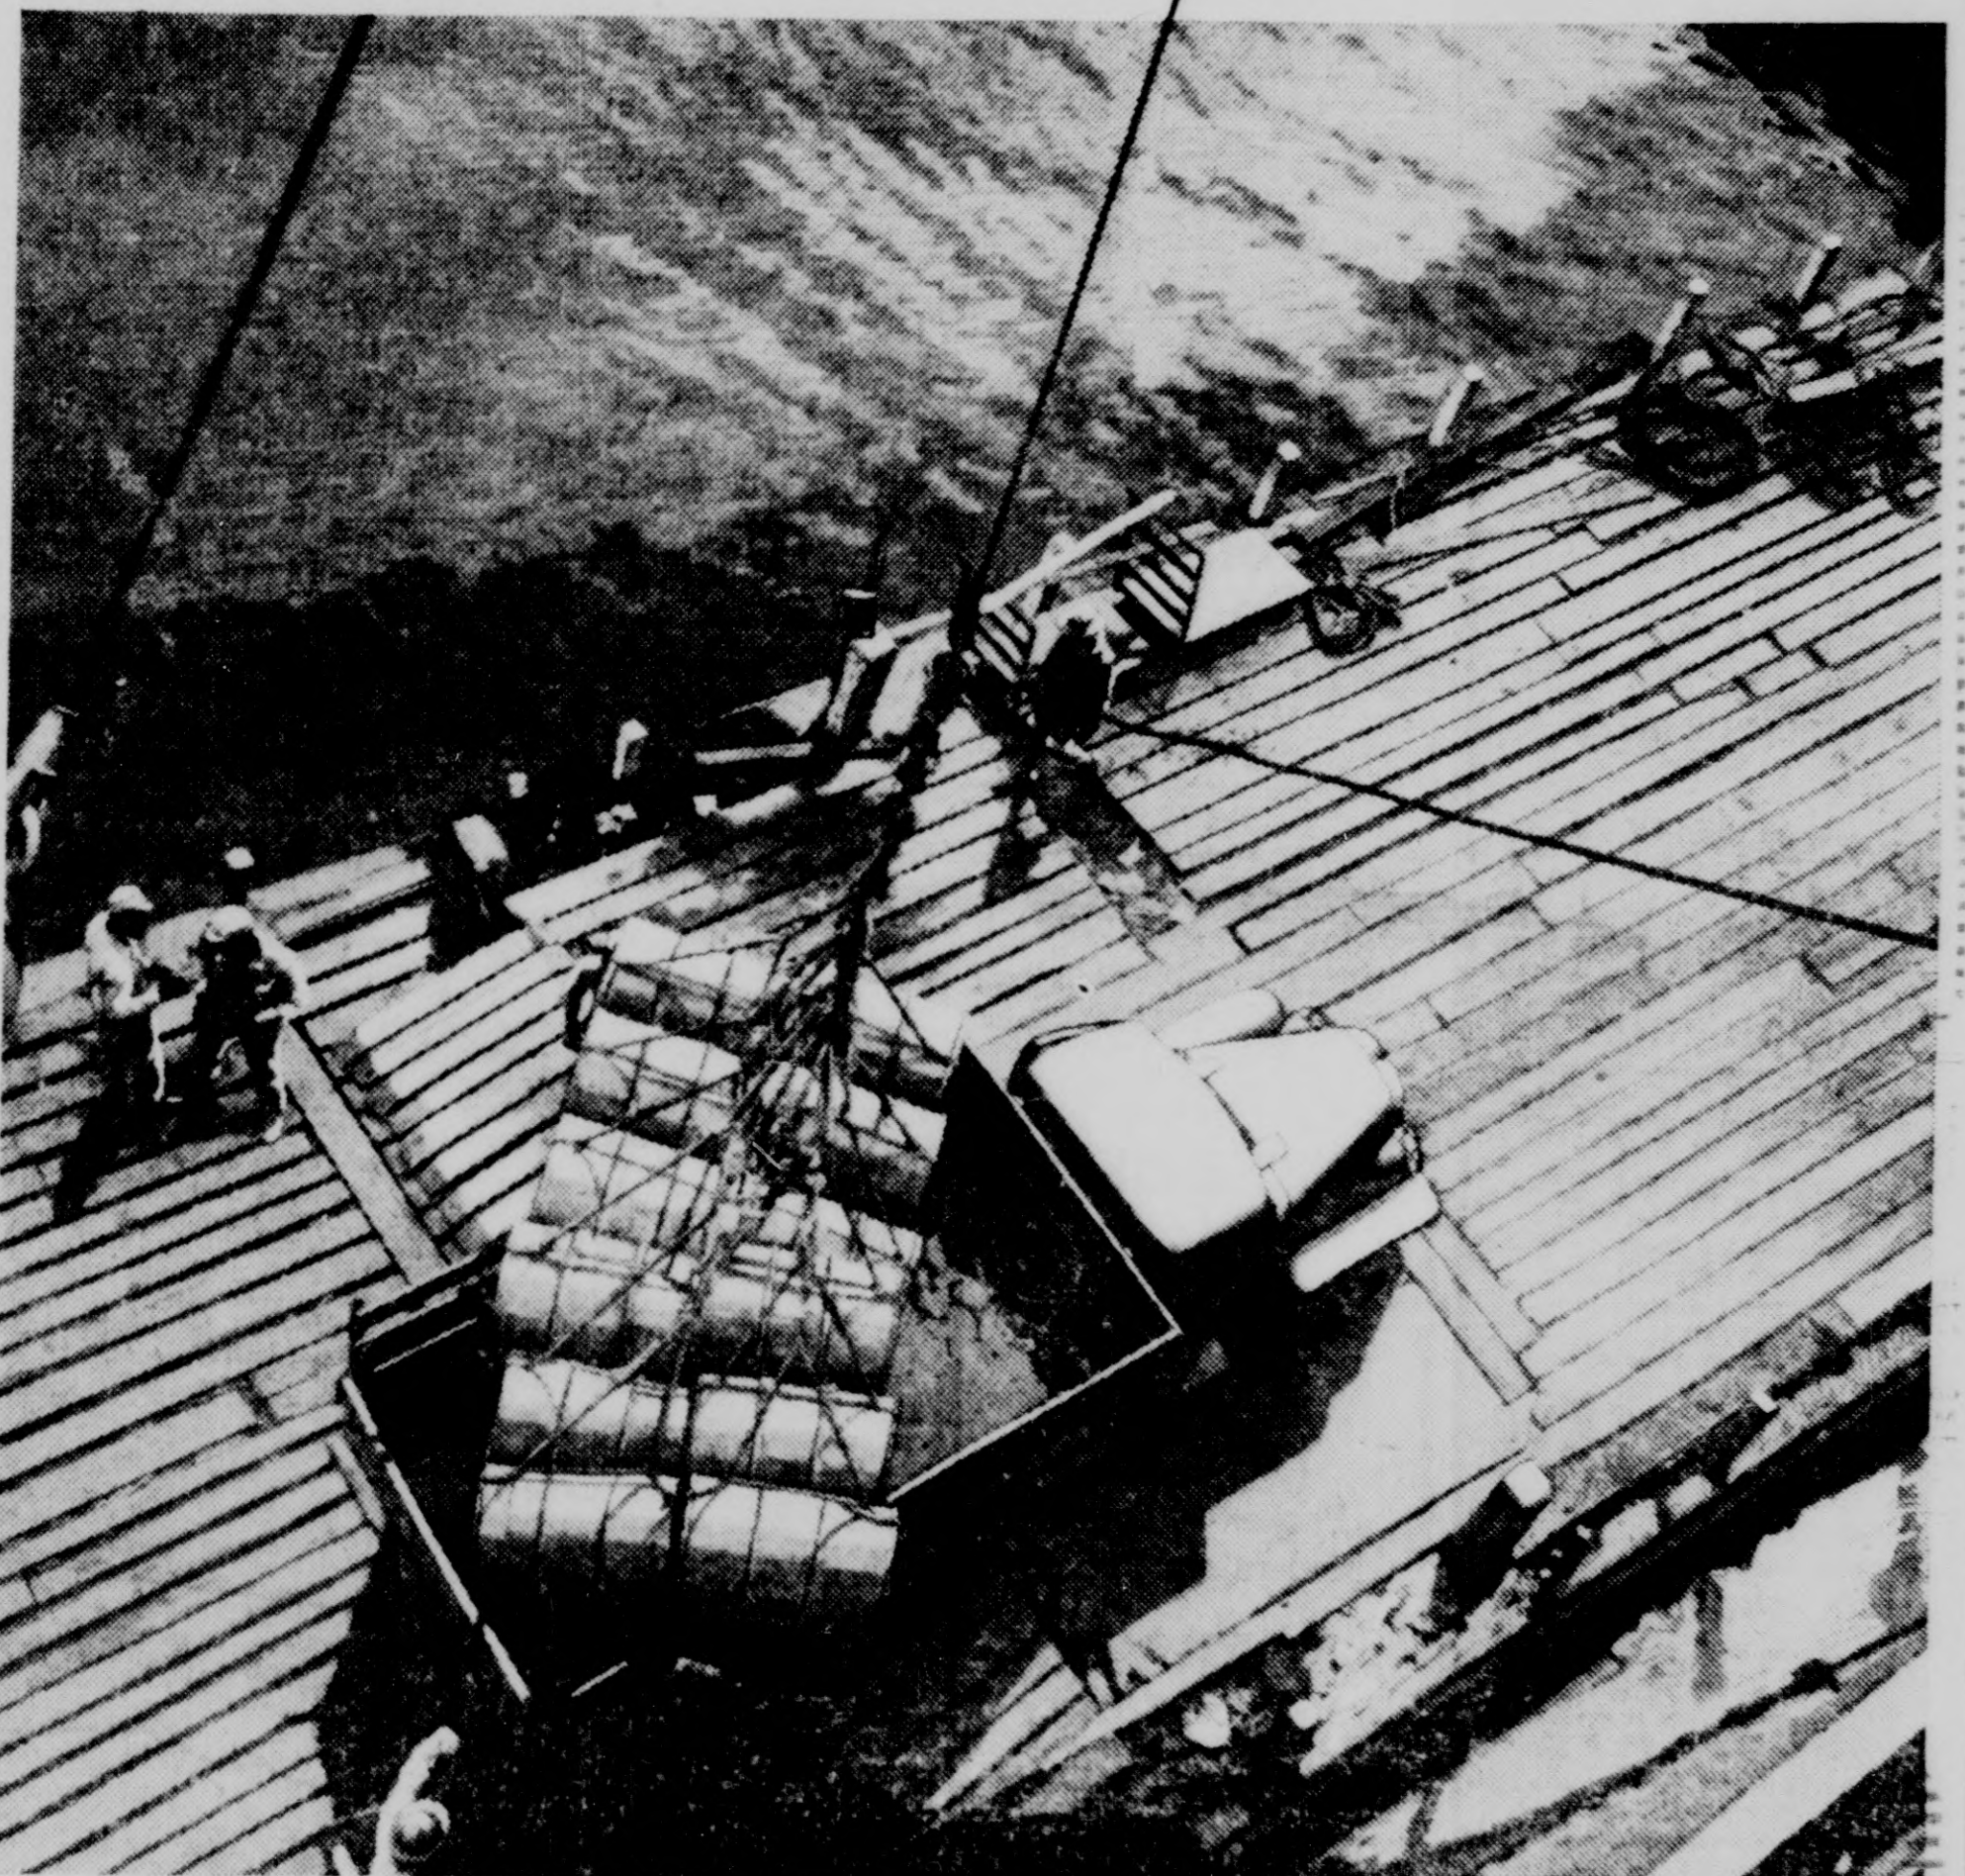

The exact number of American planes in the South Pacific can't be told but you can guess at the total. Multiply it by the fuel consumption figures given and you'll have a rough idea of just one part of the production needed to supply this one theater of war.

The American oil industry is supplying every war theater around the world with a quality and quantity of petroleum products the Axis can't begin to match. This production is due to facilities and efficiencies developed by the various oil companies competing for your business.

When the war is over, this same system of American individual enterprise will give you even better service than before.

French Assembly Meeting In Algiers

ALGIERS, Nov. 9.—(INS)—In accordance with the French parliamentary tradition, the new French consultative assembly will examine the credentials of its delegates when it convenes for the second time today in the Algerian assembly buildings.

This verification of the mandates of the delegates, many of whom came direct from the French underground, might provide fireworks in the event the validity of anyone's credentials is challenged. However, the harmony which prevailed at the opening session of the assembly last Wednesday probably will continue at this session.

The French committee of national liberation, co-sponsor of the assembly with the council of resistance in France, has announced that it will ask the parliament's view on "the international situation" shortly and hence a full-dressed debate on foreign affairs is expected for later in the week.

Election Trend Shown In State

Recent Election Indicates State Voters Moving Away From New Deal

ELECTION NEXT YEAR MEANS BIG CONTESTS

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 9.—The Republican party's prospects of capturing the offices of the state treasurer and the auditor general for the first time since 1936 as well as increasing their majorities in the legislature and congress next year were emphasized today by smashing G. O. P. pluralities in the general election.

Voting in last week's election indicated a trend away from the New Deal in all sections of the state with exceptions in Allegheny and surrounding counties in Western Pennsylvania and scattered districts in eastern sections of Pennsylvania.

State contests
Although presidential balloting promised to occupy the spotlight, important contests in the state will hold the interest of voters.

Along with selecting a president, Pennsylvania will elect a U. S. senator, a state treasurer and an auditor general for four year terms, 208 representatives, 25 senators, and 32 congressmen.

U. S. Sen. James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh, probably will be a candidate for a fourth term on the G. O. P. ticket, but there was some speculation whether he would have the support of the organization. Although he has won without organization support in the past, his defeat as a gubernatorial candidate in the primary election last year makes his political future uncertain. He served a short term from 1930 to 1932 and was re-elected for six-year terms in 1932 and 1938. His term expires January 2, 1945.

G. O. P. Prospects
For the first time since 1936 when President Roosevelt swept the nation for a second term, Pennsylvania Republicans were in a good position to capture control of the offices of the state treasurer and auditor general. A constitutional provision prohibits auditor general

F. Clair Ross and state treasurer G. Harold Wagner from succeeding themselves.

There were no indications that the two fiscal officers would trade positions—allowable under the constitution—because Ross has hinted he may be a candidate for a state supreme court post while Wagner has tossed up a trial balloon to test the political winds and ascertain his position as a possible compromise candidate if his party fails to agree on a candidate to oppose the Republicans in the U. S. senate race.

Control of the congressional delegation was won in 1942 by the Republicans as the trend away from the New Deal became more apparent. Next year, if Republican prospects continue to improve, the G. O. P. probably can increase their membership on the 33 member delegation. The Democrats hold 14 seats compared with 19 for the Republicans.

Senate Seats
In the state legislature, however, the Republicans stand their best chance of overwhelming the Democrats. Twenty-five of the 50 senatorial posts will be contested and Republicans have a better-than-even opportunity of retaining control of the 14 seats that will be included in the election as well as pickup several of the 11 seats held by the Democrats in Philadelphia, Allegheny, Cambria, Berks, Westmoreland, Beaver and Lawrence counties. The Senate is in G. O. P. hands now 32 to 18.

In the House of Representatives, now controlled by the Republicans 132 to 76, all seats will be filled in the 1944 balloting. Voting returns in the general election disclosed Democratic strength in only 10 out of the state's 67 counties and Republican leaders were hopeful that the trend would continue to permit the G. O. P. to aid at least a score of seats to their present majority.

EX-CONVICTS ARE

AGAIN SENTENCED

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Two Pittsburgh ex-convicts, captured in a downtown gun battle with officers six weeks ago, were sentenced to two and one-half to five years in Western Penitentiary Monday by visiting Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler county.

Walter Lukas and Theodore Molensky were convicted of stealing the car in which they attempted to flee when surprised in an attempted burglary. A city patrolman was wounded in the ensuing gun battle. Judge Wilson banned any parole to the men.

C.I.O. To Demand New Wage Increase

Flat 15 Cents An Hour Raise Is To Be Basis Of New Demands

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The United Steel Workers of America indicated today that they will demand re-opening of contract negotiations with steel corporations on the union's expected demand for a flat-15-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Following a meeting at which the executive board authorized convening of a wage and policy conference, Philip Murray, president of both the Steel Workers and the C.I.O., said the wage picture in the steel industry is one of the most seriously distorted in the entire country.

He stated that it is "reasonable to assume" that the resolution adopted by the CIO last week, seeking equal pay for equal work in all parts of the country, would be one of the bases for new wage proposals.

The union now holds about 1300 contracts in the basic steel industry, of which a majority contain clauses permitting either side to file 30-day advance notice of a desire to reopen contract negotiations.

Murray indicated the U. S. W. A. would take advantage of this clause to begin new wage talks with such corporations as United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic and others.

Murray said the international executive board would meet at Pittsburgh on November 30 or December 1, and the wage and policy conference will convene at that time.

See Opening Of Battle Against Wage Formula

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The executive board of the United Steel Workers of America has authorized the convening of a wage and policy conference of the C.I.O. union to consider wage demands of the membership.

The move was the opening shot in a battle against the Little Steel wage formula. The union is expected to make a formal demand for a general increase of 15 cents an hour for the nation's 900,000 steel workers.

Philip Murray, president of the Steel Workers Union, said the international executive board would meet at Pittsburgh on November 30 or December 1 and the wage and policy conference will convene at that time.

Some Coal Miners Face U. S. Action

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—(INS)—More than 5,000 coal miners still out on strike in Western and Central Pennsylvania today faced possible punitive action under the Smith-Connally Act.

It was the seventh day since the government had seized control of the pits. The law forbids concerted work stoppages at government war enterprises except in cases where a 30-day notice of intention to strike is filed.

A fine of $5,000 and a year in prison are possible penalties for anyone encouraging an illegal workout. Any action was expected to develop in Washington, since Secretary Ickes is nominal operator of the mines for the government.

Meanwhile, more than 105,000 miners had returned to other pits in the area, accounting for what was expected to be the best day's production in months. Union officials said they expected the stayouts to return to their jobs soon.

Probe Discovery Of Long Tunnel At German Camp

Former Nazi Soldiers And Sailors Might Have Escaped Prison Camp

TRINIDAD, Colo., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Discovery of a 150-foot tunnel through which former Nazi soldiers and sailors "might have escaped in wholesale numbers" brought FBI agents back to the much-publicized Trinidad prisoner of war camp again today.

Announcement that a tunnel had been found was made by Lt. Col. William S. Hannan, commanding officer at the camp. He said the passage way led from the officers' compound to a point 65 feet beyond the outside fence.

"Investigation has been in progress for some time," Col. Hannan said. "Guards on duty at the time of several recent escapes said they saw no prisoners in the proximity of the barb wire fence, so we searched for other possible avenues of escape."

Col. Hannan said investigation of the barracks revealed the entrance to the tunnel in the closet of the officers' compound. The passage way was about 150 feet long, five feet high and 30 inches wide. It had been excavated through hard, abode soil, and army officers estimated it had taken the prisoners a month of hard digging.

Found in the tunnel were an electric extension cord, a broken shovel, a stove boiler and a wooden "sled" used to take small quantities of earth out of the hole.

The Trinidad camp broke into headlines several weeks ago after snapshots were found in the clothing of recaptured escapees. The pictures showed German prisoners in "kissing and hugging poses" with Japanese farm girls who worked nearby.

To date, 13 prisoners have escaped from the camp and have been recaptured within two to five days.

Unique Story Is Told Draft Board

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(INS)—So far as court officials were able to recall today this alibi of John Atkinson, 23, for not possessing a draft registration card is absolutely new. John told U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker:

"You see, your honor, I was a trapper at Fargo, N.D., trapping mink, beaver and so on. Well, on my last round, I found a skunk in one of my traps. I always grab skunks by the front legs, but this one swung around on me and I got him by the hind legs. And that isn't all I got your honor."

"I had to burn my clothes, and my draft card was in my pants. I couldn't have lived with that draft card, anyway."

Atkinson was released on bond while his unique story was being investigated.

Hold Woman On Charge Of Murder

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Mrs. John Brozna of Plymouth township was held without bail Monday in the Luzerne county jail on a charge of murdering her husband.

Police said she admitted striking her sleeping husband with an ax and inflicting injuries which caused his death several hours later in the Homeopathic hospital. Police said Mrs. Brozna claimed her action was motivated by family quarrels for more than 20 years.

Consumer's Coal Stocks Decline

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes reported today that consumers' stocks of bituminous coal declined 2,410,000 tons during September.

Ickes emphasized that the reduction occurred in a relatively light burning period and before any production was lost as result of the suspension of work in the coal mines.

Bituminous stocks on Oct. 1 were 72,866,000 tons for a 45-days supply, as compared with stocks of 75,276,000 tons on Sept. 1 for a 49-days supply.

Both bituminous and anthracite production felt the effects of the "wildcat" strikes in the week ended Oct. 30, Ickes said.

Soft coal production was estimated at 9,825,000 tons as compared with 11,325,000 tons for the week of Oct. 23, while anthracite output totaled 1,036,000 tons for the week of Oct. 30, against 1,290,000 tons a week earlier.

OUR BIGGEST WAR JOB is just Starting!

American troops are attacking!

They need more men... materials... supplies.

This means a bigger job than ever for the Erie and other American railroads.

In Sicily, nearly half of all 55mm guns, 54% of 37mm gun carriages, 22% of 105mm howitzer carriages, and 36% of 75mm gun carriages put into action were lost the first week.

All of this equipment must be replaced and increasing quantities delivered wherever needed.

As we gain additional territory... food, fuel, equipment, and munitions must be transported in greater volume over longer distances.

Fighting men consume almost twice as much food as civilians. They need more clothing... equipment... fuel for planes, tanks, trucks... guns... munitions.

Hauling all these to ships ready to carry them to our troops is the gigantic task of your railroads.

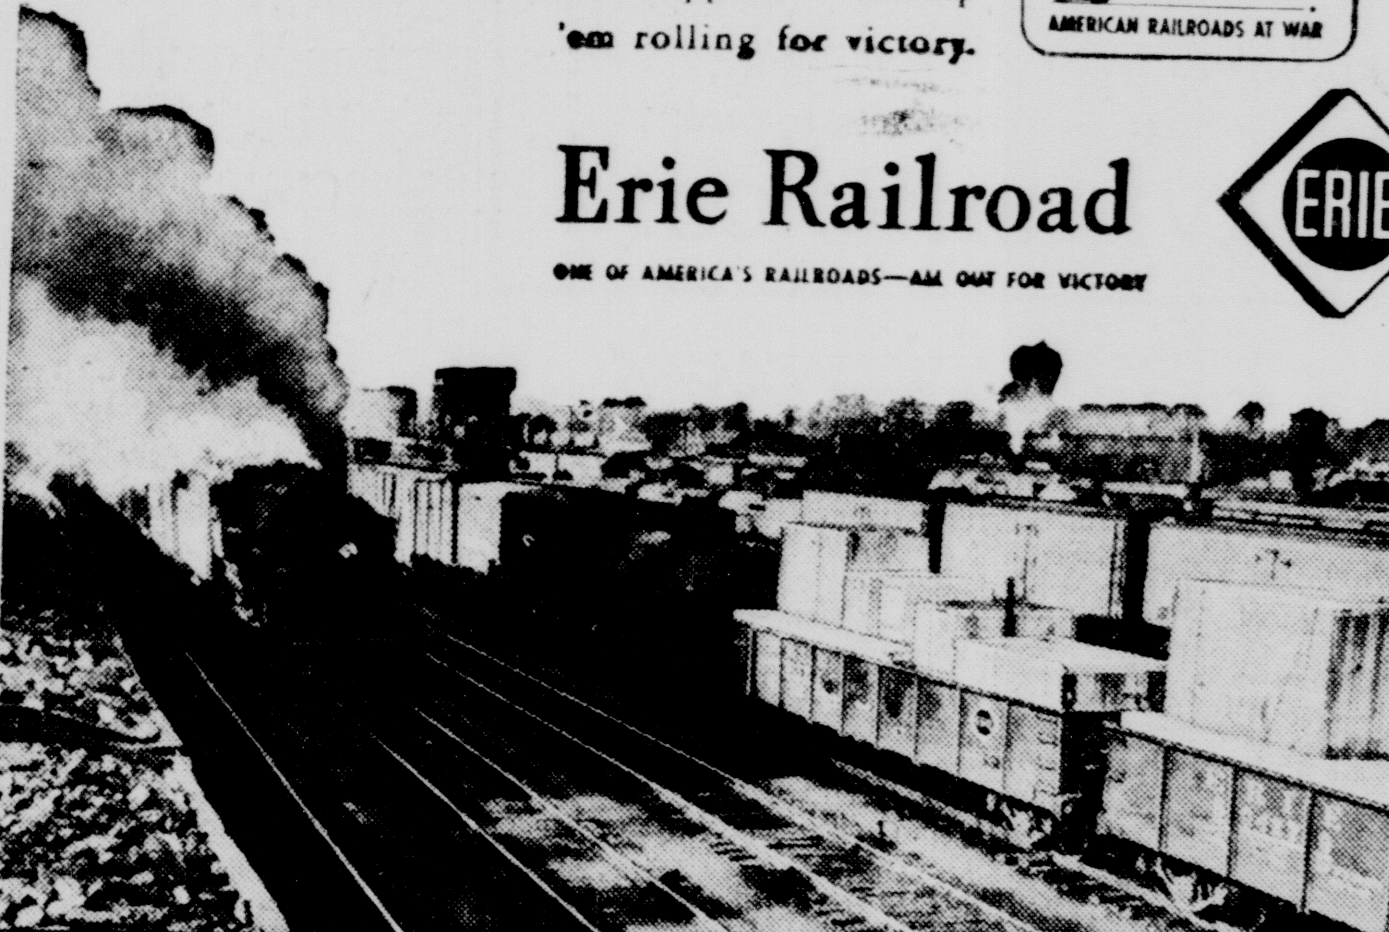

Fuel and supplies also must be delivered to the Navy and Merchant Marine for trips to battle-fronts often halfway around the world.

However big the job may become, you can depend upon Erie and other American railroads...

with the continued helpful cooperation of travelers and shippers... to keep 'em rolling for victory.

Erie Railroad

ONE OF AMERICA'S RAILROADS—AM ONE FOR VICTORY

Our Government asks us to conserve fuel, manpower, transportation, critical materials

How to use less heat

and still keep warm

Experience has proved that the biggest fuel saving you can make comes from thorough insulation of your home, installation of storm windows and doors, and weatherstripping and caulking openings which let in cold air, defying your heating plant to keep the house comfortable.

In the interest of saving fuel... for war plants... and for your own pocketbook, incidentally... whether you heat with Gas or other fuel... we suggest that you check with dealers in these services and materials right away, while manpower and materials are still available. They can show you how to save money, save fuel, and keep comfortable on less heat.

AFTER THE WAR... Today Natural Gas and Gas equipment are devoted to winning the war. Government restrictions prevent most new users from enjoying Natural Gas or buying heating equipment. But when the war is over... especially if your home has been "winter-conditioned"... you will be able to have all the benefits of clean, low cost, automatic Gas heat. One way to prepare for that day is to buy War Bonds now!

Natural Gas is vital to War industries...

Use it wisely!

Asks Return Of States' Rights

Mark James, Of Postwar Planning Commission Makes Plea

STATE POLICE HEAD IS ALSO SPEAKER

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—A return to the rule of states' rights was demanded Monday by Mark S. James, director of the Pennsylvania postwar planning commission.

In an address before the Pennsylvania Automobile Association, James declared, maintaining states' rights is one way of preserving the American way of life.

"Once the question was whether the states would destroy the national government," he said. "Now the question seems to be whether the national government shall be permitted to destroy the states."

Col. C. W. Wilhelm, commissioner of Pennsylvania state police, said many accidents could be avoided through use of safe motoring equipment.

"The legitimate dealer," Wilhelm declared, "has every right to expect protection from fly-by-night stations which 'sell' stickers with little or no inspection."

David W. Harris, secretary of revenue, promised to "crack down" on service stations giving improper inspections.

Gov. Edward L. Martin was scheduled to speak at the association's annual banquet tonight.

FISHERMAN GETS SURPRISE CATCH

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Donald Holland and Richard Wienand, 11-year-old Catsaqua boys, returned from fishing in Jordan creek with a catch that was different from the usual run of speckled morsels.

Here's the story the boys were telling today:

The book of one of the lads carried and lodged itself in underbrush along the stream's bank. The youngster tugged and slowly, struggling every bit of the way, he reeled in a rabbit, the hook caught in its tail.

AROUND CITY HALL

Time and again someone raises a cry that taxes in some nearby cities are lower than here. However, they do not include in their assertions the cost per can of collecting garbage or how much residents along a white way system must pay for extra illumination. Here the city tax covers garbage collection, street illumination, whether or not it is a white way, ashing of streets, cutting of weeds between the sidewalk and curb, and possibly some other chores that cost extra in some other cities, according to members of City Council.

Director of Streets James Gibson is collecting a mountain of ashes to scatter on paved hillside to prevent accidents this winter. . . Abandonment of street cars here and the substitution of buses serves the local company a lot of money in salt and sand. During days when hills were snow-covered or rails were coated with ice it was no strange sight to see the sand car out, likewise the snow plow.

Coal situation already has pinched the city, which has found it trying to get sufficient coal for several of the smaller buildings. . . It is not likely that the city streets department structure in Taylor street will be completed to such an extent that it can be used for other than storage this year. . . Some time this month Council will collect around a table and prepare appropriations for the Mayor John F. Haven administration. Indications are he will be invited to attend the meeting.

DEATH OF PRIVATE TERMED SUICIDE

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Corporal Edward E. Smith pronounced the death of Pvt. First Class Carl Fraenckel, 44, who was inducted into the Army in New York City last September, as suicide.

Fraenckel's body was found hanging by a rope in his bedroom in Neil hall, on the campus of Ohio State university. He had been studying a foreign area and language course under A.S.T.P. at the university, his commanding officer said.

Dr. Smith said Fraenckel was despondent because he was dissatisfied with his studies and wanted to join troops training in the field.

Draft Legislation Runs Into Deadlock

Senate-House Conferees Fail To Agree On Father Draft Measure Temporarily

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, (D), Mont., charged today that failure of house and senate conferees to agree on the revised draft act is forcing thousands of fathers into the armed services daily. "Unless the conference committee can agree soon, there won't be any need for revising the draft law to take all single men first," Wheeler said.

An outspoken critic of the Father-Draft law, Wheeler asserted that the present procedure of inducting fathers in some areas while childless men remain available in others is undermining the entire Selective Service system.

The senate-house conferees ran into a temporary deadlock yesterday over proposals to remove administration of Selective Service from the War Manpower Commission.

At the initial meeting, senate representatives remained adamant in their contention that President Roosevelt, instead of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, or Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, should have final jurisdiction over manpower and draft regulations.

The house-approved bill would vest Hershey with McNutt's present powers over draft procedure. House conferees contended—over senate objections—that the senate measure was also designed to empower Hershey with draft jurisdiction.

Although the administrative feature of the revised draft bill created the temporary stalemate, conferees were still confronted with reaching an agreement on the issue of drafting pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

The house measure requires draft boards to delay induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers on a nationwide basis until all other eligible classes have been called.

Calls On State To Honor Marines

HARRISBURG, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin has called on Pennsylvanians to honor the U. S. Marines on the 16th anniversary tomorrow "of this invincible fighting force."

The Devils, the governor declared, "once more are defending our honor of our nation, serving the cause of freedom and justice with that distinguished valor and unwavering devotion to duty which is the tradition of the corps."

NEW SUIT ON FILE AGAINST ERROL FLYNN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Mrs. Charley Evans Hassan, 21-year-old Los Angeles housewife, had a new paternity suit on file today in superior court against actor Errol Flynn.

The new suit was filed after a demurrer had been sustained to the original suit brought against the star charging him with being the father of Marilyn, Mrs. Hassan's infant daughter.

The new action specifically omitted any claim for hospitalization expenses for herself, a point of contention in the original action. Mrs. Hassan also flatly denied abandoning the child born Nov. 13, 1940.

The new suit asks only reasonable support plus court costs and attorney fees.

Flynn has denied ever being intimate with Mrs. Hassan.

Wage Formula Is Under Attack

Railway Labor Assaults Government's Wage Stabilization Formula

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Railway labor's assault on the government's wage stabilization formula was intensified today by the renewed threat of a strike of 1,100,000 non-operating railway employees in support of their demands for an eight-cent-an-hour pay boost.

Heads of the 15 unions meeting in Washington flatly rejected the counter-offer of economic czar Fred M. Vinson for a four to 10 cent sliding scale increase, terming it "unsatisfactory and unacceptable." Some officials expressed fears of unauthorized "wildcat" walkouts.

At the same time, the executive board of the CIO-Steel Workers Union authorized the convening of a wage and policy conference to reopen the 1300 contracts of the nation's 900,000 steel workers. Other CIO unions may soon follow suit.

Freak Tornadoes Strike In South

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Freak tornadoes which hit through south Louisiana and Mississippi left at least six persons dead and more than a score injured.

More than 100 others were left homeless. Property damage was extensive.

A tornado struck the south Louisiana community of Homeplace near Port Sulphur, early yesterday. Another struck Maurice, southwest of Lafayette, while a third hit the Mt. Hermon community 30 miles northwest of Bogalusa.

Telephone lines were blown down and service from Port Sulphur to Burwood was interrupted. At Maurice houses were demolished, and one building was hurled 100 feet by the tornado.

JAPS CONTINUE TO MAKE CLAIMS

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Radio Tokyo today broadcast a communique from Imperial headquarters claiming that a score of Allied battleships, cruisers, destroyers and transports had been sunk or damaged in a battle in progress south of Bougainville Island in the Solomons since yesterday morning.

There was absolutely no substantiation of the enemy claims which heretofore have been grossly exaggerated.

The Jap report asserted that planes of the Nipponese naval air force which attacked an Allied convoy had sunk or damaged four battleships, more than eight cruisers, three destroyers and five transports. In addition, the communique claimed, 12 Allied planes were shot down.

Chandler Named Most Valuable In American League

Yankees' Star Twirler Polls 246 Points; Appling Second And York Third

Georgian Main Factor In New Yorkers' Rise; Rookie Bill Johnson Fourth

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, New York Yankee right-hander who won 20 games during the last baseball season and two more in the World Series, is the American League's most valuable player for 1943.

The former University of Georgia footballer took 12 first place votes out of a possible 24 and finished with 246 points to win top honors over shortstop Luke Appling, of the Chicago White Sox, in balloting among baseball writers association committees in the various major league cities. Appling was given five first place votes and a total of 215 points.

Appling received seven second place votes against four given to Chandler and beat out Rudy York, Detroit Tiger slugger, for the runner-up spot. York received one first place vote and seven for second and polled 152 points.

Johnnie Big Surprise
As a Yankee took the honor for the third year in a row, a surprisingly popular young man with the vote-casters was Third Baseman Bill Johnson of the Yankees. The rookie finished behind York with three firsts and 135 points.

Chandler, however, earned his place out in front, a place held last season by Joe Gordon and the year before by Joe DiMaggio. The big Georgian was the key pitcher in the Yankee march to the pennant with his 20 wins against four defeats and in the Yank clutch over the Cards as well. He hurled the first game victory in the world series, then fired the clincher in the fifth game.

He thus joins Outfielder Stan Musial of the Cardinals as top man. The latter recently was named the National League's most valuable.

Behind Chandler, Appling, York and Bill Johnson, in order, came Don Johnson of the Washington Senators, Dick Wakefield of the Detroit Tigers, Nick Etten and Bill Dickey of the St. Louis Browns and Lou Boudreau, Cleveland manager and shortstop.

Among the latter was Gordon

Fair or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—It is now a question of which will collapse first, Uncle Mike Jacobs of the Axis. As is so painfully evident, the New York promoter, with whose tentacles lies the taste of pugilistic tithes, has had to resort to some miraculous doling out, stretching, padding and covering up in order to keep his fight programs going.

REVOLVER CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Weekly meeting of the Sportsmen's Revolver club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Cathedral. Another tournament will be staged during the affair, Secretary "Chuck" Schweinsberg announced.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

American Bowling Congress has awarded 2,847 gold awards for perfect games during its 48 years of existence. Hank Marino, Milwaukee, leads the field with eight 300 games to his record. His first one was achieved January 7, 1924 and his eighth February 15, 1938.

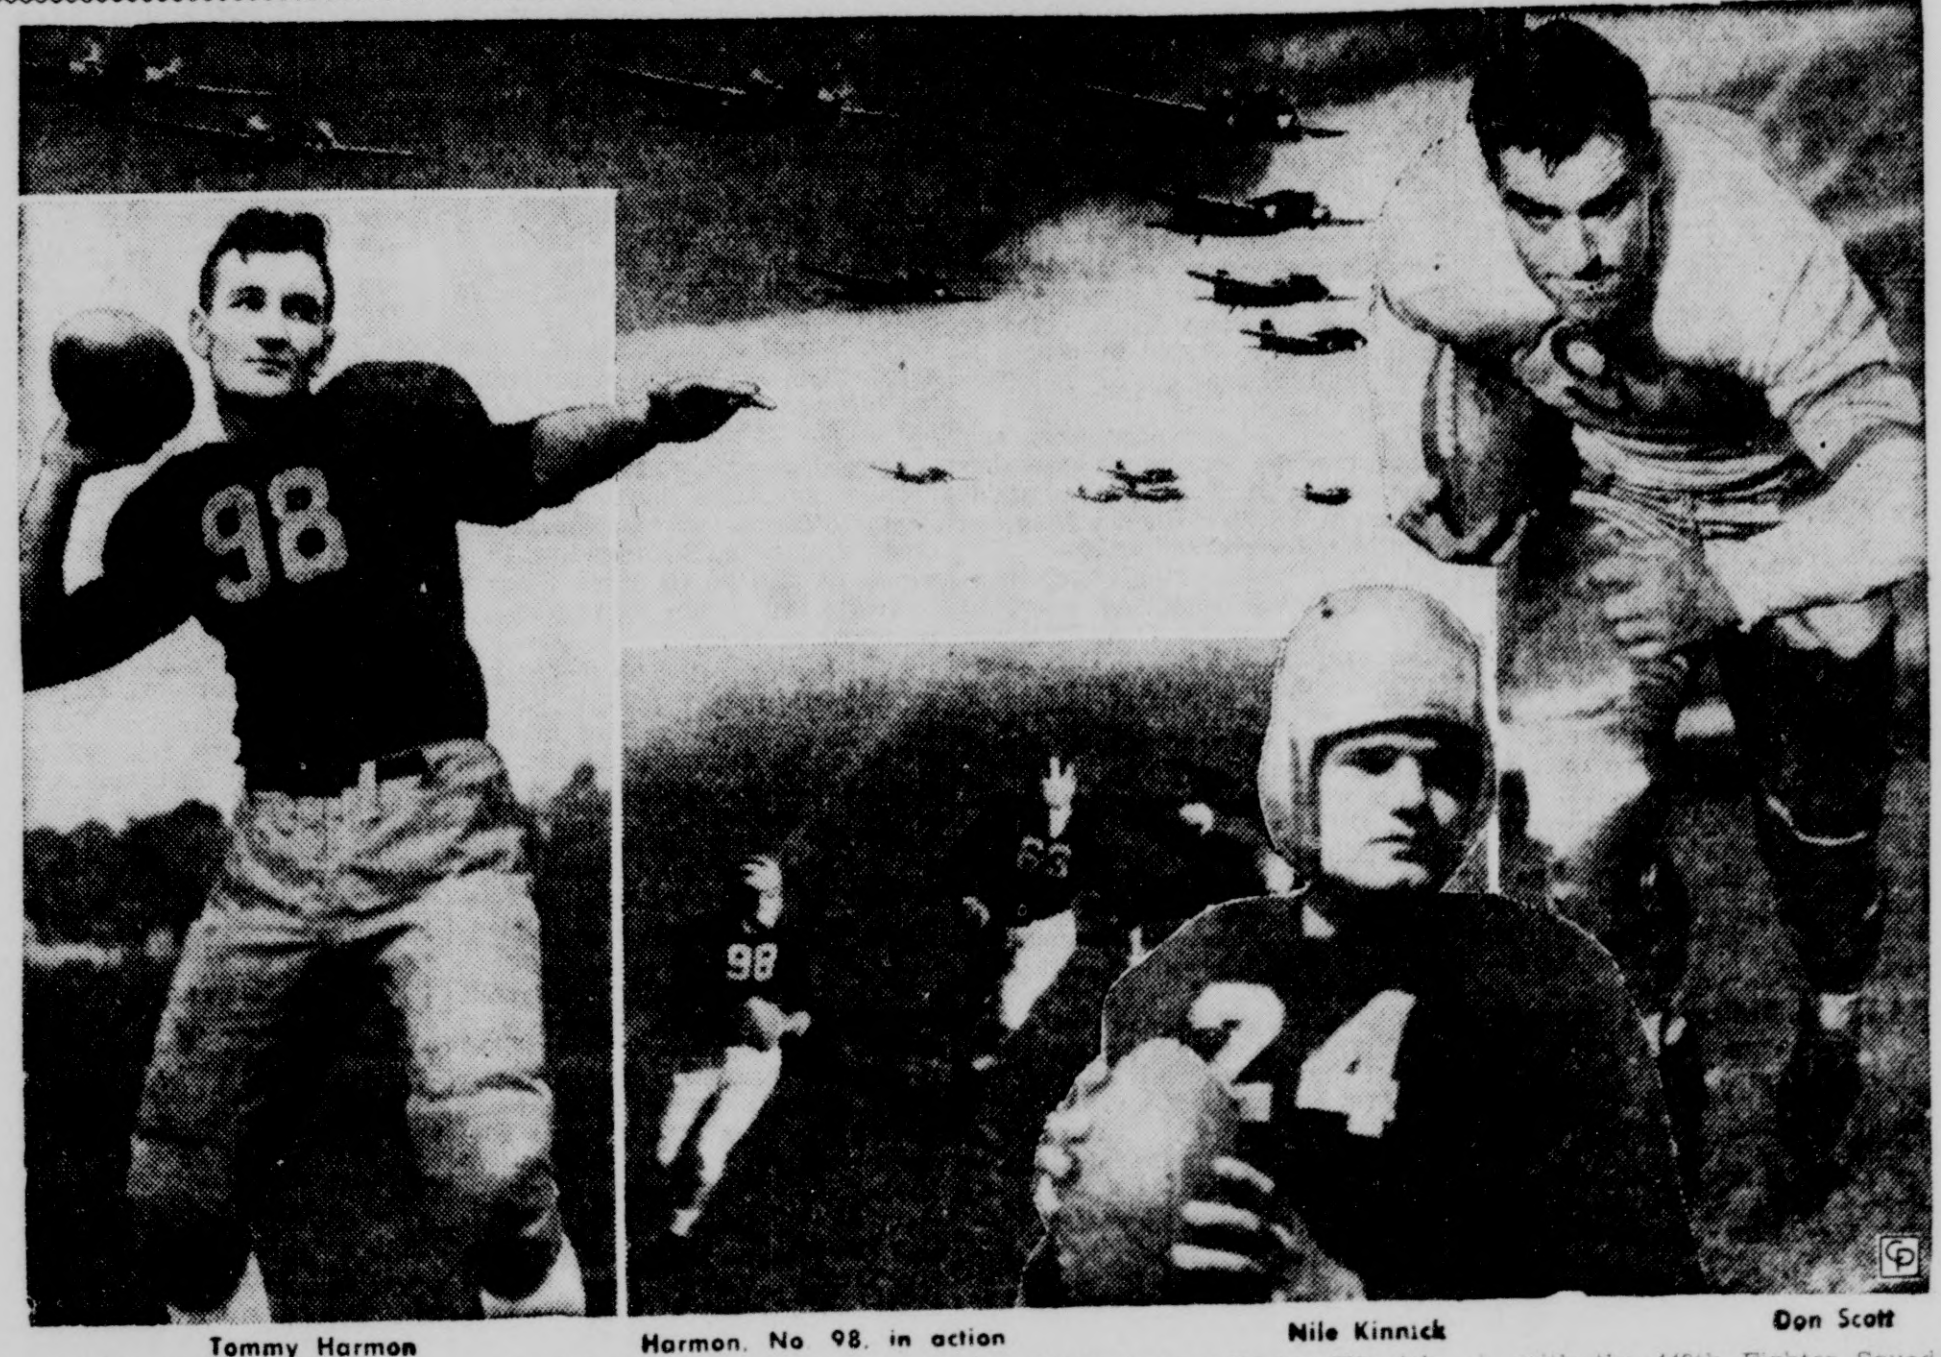

In four road appearances the Green Bay Packers have played before 149,159 fans. Fritz Zivich is 31 years old and in his thirteenth year of boxing. Thirty thousand fans watched the West Catholic and North Catholic, Philadelphia school grid Sunday while 32,963 watched the Steagles in another field the same day. Last Saturday Penn played before 73,000, showing the Quaker City is football eager.

Tom Walsh, formerly associated with the big noises in Chicago and Detroit boxing is now associated with Bob Brickman and Larry Atkins in Cleveland. He brought Johnny Burns and others to the bowl here and expects to drop in for a visit soon according to Tom McMahon who is now associated with Earl Williams, former lightweight, in Cleveland. Today is not as cold as it could be, yet it was welcomed by hunters. There was a zip in the air and those who were not bundled too heavily with clothes found the walking pleasant.

Bill Hudson, Indianapolis winger, topped the American Hockey league scorers last week with four goals and five assists for nine points. Penn State and Temple clash Saturday at State College. It will be the first meeting on Nittany Lion soil. Of the series the Lions have won once. Chicago Cubs will start training March 20 at French Lick, Ind. The Cubs and White Sox both trained there last spring. Lynn Waldorf, coach, has had his contract at Northwestern U renewed for three years. Also returned to winner's row yesterday by taking the $7,000 Discovery purse at Pimlico.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Tommy Scannell and Bob Pickett will play at backfield for Yale when the New Haven squad meets Princeton Saturday, taking the place of acting Captain Bill Kirst, who was injured last week-end in the Brown game.

PANTHERS REST; THEY NEED IT

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Coach Clark Shaughnessy prepared today to resume drilling the Pitt Panthers after a day of rest in which they licked wounds of Saturday's defeat by Ohio State.

Holy Cross Plays Villanova Sunday
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Workouts continued today at Villanova as the Wildcats groomed for their game with Holy Cross at Worcester next Sunday. Coach Jordan Oliver, thoroughly satisfied with the Cats' upset triumph over Princeton last week, continued his search for reserve material. Sunday's game will decide the Catholic college championship of the East.

Sports Ramblings

Scribbled on a rainy afternoon—
Unusually handsome in his U. S. Navy uniform, Ensign Charles "Chuck" James is back in town after spending 10 months on the high seas. The ex-Ne-Ca-Hi and Salem college scab back, in this department for a gabfest, was loud in his praise of our Navy and what he termed "her precise way of operating." The south side athlete revealed that Third Class Gunner's Mate Tony DeLillo, also of the south side, is on the same tanker. James returns to New York on the 19th.

Bob Stewart, former 'Cane line jarring back, got a taste of collegiate football Saturday, participating in the Villanova-Princeton 45-22 scoring battle. The seventh ward athlete took over the fullback post for Old Nassau and denied the scoring column, cracking over for a touchdown. The localite made an impressive showing in Princeton's losing effort, according to reports forwarded this way.

From Cansius college way in Buffalo, Albert "Bud" Fisher, attached to the 22nd College Training Detachment, writes in a suggestion that New Castle replace Beaver Falls with Scott of North Braddock and also card Brownsville. In certain Faculty Manager Gardner will consider the recommendations.

Joe Gender, ex-New Castle high grid star and a leading performer in the 'Cane triumph over Massillon in 1937, is expected home from the South Pacific where he has been stationed for close to a year and half. There is a possibility that he may be medically discharged.

Penn Prepares For N. Carolina

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Penn prepared today to repel an invasion of Franklin field by North Carolina next Saturday as Coach George Munger sought to correct mistakes that proved costly in the 24-7 defeat by Navy last week. Penn holds a 3-1 edge in the series with North Carolina.

SAVOLD COOKS GOOSE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Friday's heavyweight encounter in Madison Square Garden between Tami Mauriello, the winner, and Lee Savold, should finally eliminate the latter from the New York big time permanently.

Somehow or other Savold can and does win elsewhere, but he has never been worth a nickel, much less a $5 or $10 ticket, in the Garden. Local fans have watched him stumble around the local ring on numerous occasions, without ever getting much of a thrill out of his efforts. Even with the current scarcity of talent he should be forgotten and let go on elsewhere for display of his peculiar talents.

Savold should have warned local constituents off a couple of years ago when he boxed Billy Conn. That was one of the worst fights ever held in any ring. Conn tried to make it good and gave Savold a fine lathering. The latter spoiled the show by throwing one punch and retiring for the evening into a shell.

BETTY BRUGMAN BOWLING WINNER

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Don Gorman, a center, and Johnny Shanley, tackle, newcomers on the Columbia squad, will go into action in the Columbia-Navy game a week from next Saturday at Baker's field. Coach Lou Little is still laid up with sinus trouble.

'Canes Stage Skull Drill; Battle Warren Here Saturday In 1943 Finale

Yesterday's raindrops prevented New Castle high's footballers from starting drills for Saturday's 1943 finale with Harding high of Warren, O. The 11th battle between the schools will be staged at Taggart stadium with 2:15 as the kick-off time.

The 'Canes, who will seek their eighth decision of the season and their initial triumph over the Ohioans since 1940, made good use of the indoor period by staging a skull drill. Assistant Coach George "Gie" Thomas, who watched Warren drop a 26-19 verdict to Niles last Friday, gave the athletes an idea of what to expect.

Jinx Team
He sketched the Ohioans' formations and cautioned his audience not to underestimate the Harding high clan which has been a jinx to the locals for the past two seasons.

Thomas came away from the contest with a feeling that the Ohioans were looking ahead to the New Castle contest and thus lost some of their finesse.

Warren is classed as a stronger outfit than the eleven which handed the 'Canes a 7-6 setback last season in a snowstorm. The locals were overwhelming favorites. In 1941, the Ohioans blanked the Bridenbaums, 13-0, that setback being the lone black mark on the local record.

With better weather conditions prevailing today, Coach Bridenbaugh will send his boys through the first session of the week this afternoon at Taggart stadium. The drill probably will be light.

Barring a defeat in Friday's engagement with Conneville high, Brownsville will succeed New Castle as class AA WPIAL champions.

The league committee, meeting in Pittsburgh last night, ruled that a Conneville victory will result in a new setup with Clairton, New Castle, Brownsville, Duquesne and Thistle Creek in the title running.

If the Browns win, they'll cop the crown, however.

In class A, Glassport will meet Dormont November 20 at Clairton, provided Dormont isn't defeated by Brentwood Friday. Aspinwall and Pitcairn clash for the class B diadem on November 20 at Wilkinsburg.

NEW CASTLE

Indicate Large Crowd Will Hear Wheeler McMillen

President Of National Farm And Chemurgic Council Speaks Wednesday

Men and women of the farm and men and women of industry alike seem to be interested in the appearance here Wednesday night of Wheeler McMillen, president of the National Farm Chemurgic Council, who will speak in the George Washington Junior High school at 8 o'clock.

The appearance of Mr. McMillen is made possible by the Greater New Castle Association, President Marshall C. Matheny will preside at the meeting and Mr. McMillen will be introduced by J. Audley Roak, former head of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

"Chemurgy" the new science of utilizing farm products in industry is in its infancy in the United States but already it has provided a large market for agricultural products and employment for many people.

Soy beans alone have been used by industry in a variety of ways and more and more, farm products can be transformed into articles for use, all through chemurgy.

Mr. McMillen is an acknowledged authority in the field of chemurgy. He is an agriculturalist and is the editor of the national farm magazine, "The Farm Journal". In the past five years he has given much time in research and study to the field of chemurgy and comes to New Castle well prepared in his subject.

The meeting in George Washington Junior High school is free. It is expected that every grange in the county will have a delegation present, and from New Castle it is expected there will be a crowd of men and women whose livelihoods come from industry.

Mr. McMillen's address promises to be one of interest to every one. There should be a crowd to hear him.

Nelson Says Russia Will Pay In Full

Declares Stalin Pledges Payment In Full Of Lend-Lease Debt To U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—America had Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin's pledge today, through War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson, of "repayment in full" of Russia's two-and-a-half billion dollar lend-lease debts to the United States.

Nelson told a mass meeting sponsored by the national council of American-Soviet friendship that while he was in Moscow Stalin assured him that Russia will pay "in full—and not by token payments."

Several speakers of international prominence addressed the rally, held in celebration of the 10th anniversary of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes scoffed at the notion that "some day we must fight Russia," and declared that such a war would be "the greatest tragedy that could befall our two nations and the world."

Assailing "powerful and active forces in this country deliberately fostering ill-will toward Russia," the cabinet member declared the signatories to the four-power pact—the United States, Russia, Great Britain and China—would be "the great powers" after the war.

Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko urged immediate opening of a second front in Europe, which, he asserted, would hasten disintegration of the Nazi government and its battered military machine.

Gromyko predicted that current Soviet-American relations will lead to "still more active and efficient cooperation in the final stages of the war and in the post-war period."

ESKIMO WOMAN WILL BE SPEAKER

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 9.—Anautia, Eskimo woman from the northern tip of Chapel Island, will speak on life in the Arctic in Wallace Memorial Chapel at Westminster, Saturday evening, November 20, according to Harold Graebner, Lecture course director. An American citizen, Anautia grew up as a nomadic Eskimo only 400 miles away from the North Pole. In her lecture, she describes the Eskimo's childhood, hunting, cooking, and courtship.

NEW CASTLE MAN BUYS MERCER FARM, SCENE OF TRAGEDY

MERCER, Nov. 9.—The 160-acre farm near here, scene of a triple crime October 7, was sold Monday by Everett Wilson to George J. Burckart of New Castle. The sale included buildings and contents.

Wilson said he plans to go south for the winter the first of December. Burckart plans to continue the dairy trucking and will retain Mr. and Mrs. Smith, neighbors, who recently moved in to help Mr. Wilson.

The farm, located at the foot of a picturesque hill on the Mercer-Pulaski road, was first deeded to John Wilson by the government for his part in the Revolutionary War. The present house, built in 1898, is the third structure.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

If you would travel over the nation you would find in almost every city this size completely equipped playgrounds... not just one but several. Here in New Castle we lack that equipment... There is no place for the children to play. It's true that during the summer we do have supervised playgrounds... mostly built on very dusty land... but where do these children play after school hours? Where do they play their football, basketball and baseball? Volleyball is popular too... the city got big hearted once and spent a few hundred dollars on playgrounds... a very few hundred too... The school board is on this too... A lot of money is spent on football each year... keeping the turf on the playing field... buying good equipment to protect the lads... That's all fine but what about those who don't play football? Sure some more play basketball, but the majority... the ones who pay in the cash to watch the games? Something should be done... and done quickly and right.

The Community War Fund went over the top... The necessary amount has been raised and there is still more to come in... The county people are doing their part... Something went wrong and they were not organized as soon as they maybe should have been... but now everything is in order... A lot of money has been raised in New Castle the past three years... for this and that, and the people feel mightier now about it too... We are a friendly little town and we want to see all peoples get along... Yes, New Castle people, you can wear a smile from ear to ear... You saw your duty and you did it. To the workers who pounded the streets helping your fellow citizens get in his money... You are to be congratulated. It's a tough job. Many a hungry child will thank you for it.

THURSDAY there will be a parade... All O.C.D. units have been asked to march. Fine if they can get together again... SHOWS RECOVERY

Trend Is Reversed, From Trading In Market At Monday's Session

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Recovering slightly after yesterday's sharp break on peace liquidation, the stock market today showed gains of fractions to more than a point soon after an irregular opening. "Peace" stocks led the advance. Amusements, rails and utilities made the best showing with gains ranging to over a point. Atchison was up over 2 at one time, while Loews and Twentieth Century Fox were up over a point. Communications were mixed with Western Union up more than a point and American Telephone recovering part of an early 1½ point loss. Aviation, one of the chief sufferers yesterday, were firm. Douglas gained a point while Lockheed and United Air Lines were up fractionally. Steels, oils and rubbers were steady.

American distilling, off 10 points yesterday, recovered more than 3 before falling back slightly. Pepsi-Cola advanced a point. The bond market recovered slightly in moderately active trading.

Milk Producers
To Receive Feed
Payment Checks

Must Present Evidence Of Milk, Butterfat Sales To A.A.A. Chairman Here

Lawrence County milk producers who wish to receive payments under the dairy feed payment program should save evidence of milk and butterfat sales for presentation in applying for such payments, according to Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the county A.A.A. committee. The rate of payment for Pennsylvania dairy producers will be 40 cents per hundredweight for whole milk deliveries and 5 cents per pound of butterfat sold in cream and butter. The butterfat test or the utilization of the milk will not affect the payment for whole milk delivered.

Application for payment on October milk deliveries should be made to the county A.A.A. committee between November 1 and 30. Locations throughout the county, convenient for the producer to make application for the dairy feed adjustment payment will be announced later. To apply for payment, the milk producer simply has to present evidence of his sales in the form of the customary sales slips, receipts, stubs obtained from the milk producer, or if necessary, in some other form acceptable to the county committee. Evidence of feed purchases will not be required. After receiving the application with satisfactory evidence of milk deliveries, the county committee will write a draft on the Commodity Credit Corporation in favor of the producer. This draft can be cashed at any bank.

Non-Operating Railroad Workers Ask Action To Halt Nationwide Strike

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Leaders of 1,100,000 non-operating railroad workers, in effect, asked Congress today to override the President and prevent a nationwide railway strike.

George M. Harrison, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, appeared before a Senate subcommittee to urge congressional support for the union's demands for a flat eight-cent hourly pay increase, twice turned down by Economic Czar Vinson.

"We don't want to strike in time of war," Harrison said. "That is the most tragic thing to contemplate that anybody ever thought of."

The union chief asserted, however, that Congress was now the only agency that could help the workers settle their wage dispute. He asked the committee to "save all of us from a very embarrassing situation—a wartime interruption of transportation."

Sen. Johnson (D, Colo.), observed that Congress would be in a bad spot "if it takes the bull by the horns and overrides the president."

"I don't think there would be much objection on the part of anybody involved in the matter if you did," Harrison replied.

Harrison intimates that the non-operating unions might defer orders of a strike to now set for about November 25—if assured of congressional support to solve the controversy.

The union leader said there was only $18,000,000 difference between the workers' demands and the offer of Vinson, asserting that "that won't inflate anything."

Meanwhile, American heavy bomber units continue their earth-shattering raids against Rabaul's supply areas and airfields.

Washington Has Problems

Report Shopping Facilities Not Equal To Strain Being Imposed

GIRLS EXPECTING PACKAGES FROM HOME

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—An estimated 170,000 government girls will be unable to get home for Christmas and packages from home will be the highlights of the holiday season for them.

Although gift suggestions for men and women in the armed forces have been put forward by the government, no one so far has told the people back home what to send government girls.

The girls—most of whom will be unable to get holiday leave—have little time to shop for themselves. Washington shopping facilities are not equal to the strain imposed upon them by the heavy concentration of women workers in the capital.

Shops find it impossible to begin to meet the demand for cosmetics and perfumes. Girls cannot, in many cases, get their favorite brand of lipstick.

Some Gifts Scarce

Fountain pens and stationery are scarce and so are any variety of near-sheer rayon hosiery. Balbriggan pajamas and woolies are next to impossible to buy and Washington winters are characterized by a deep, damp chill.

Housecoats are harder to find than in other cities and while high-heeled satin mules are obtainable the more comfortable scuffs are almost as rare as nylons.

Candy is another capital luxury and a box of candy or holiday cookies would do much to establish a holiday atmosphere in a furnished room far from home. Fruit is more difficult to send by mail unless it is skillfully packed.

COLDS COUGHING

To relieve these miseries, grandma used mutton suet medicated at home. Mothers—moderns—today simply rub on Penetro—modern medication in a base containing old-fashioned mutton suet. Relieves with double action. Generous jar 25c, double supply 35c. Be sure to demand Penetro.

Earrings and nail ornaments are difficult to find in shops in Washington. Cigarette lighters and billboards with zippers and places for pictures and cards are almost impossible to get. Luggage is scarce and most government girls long for cosmetic kits or make-up kits for travel.

The "last minute" gifts of other years—slips, gowns and stockings—will meet with a warm reception this year as selections are comparatively limited and stocks incomplete.

If you don't get a Christmas card from your government girl, don't fret. Christmas cards are also scarce in Washington.

Draft Evader Given Two Years

Man Invited To Leave Country A Month Ago Fails To Go, And Is Sentenced

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Stanley Mocarisky, Jr., 23-year-old defense worker who was invited to leave the country a month ago when he refused to submit to induction into the army, was sentenced Monday to two years in a state correctional institution.

Federal Judge Carroll Heincks imposed the term after pleading for 20 minutes with the youth to change his mind and agree to the induction procedure. Mocarisky refused on the grounds that he was "ashamed" and would probably be forced to leave the army camp to which he would be assigned.

Last month, Judge Heincks gave the young war worker 30 days to either leave the country or join the army when he appeared in court as a selective service evader. At that time, Mocarisky complained that the United States has never done anything for him, and that he would not fight for it.

Asked why he would not join the army, he told Judge Heincks this morning:

"I just can't. I tried to and I want to but I'm ashamed. I've lost my job and I can not walk down the street from shame. I would be afraid I got in the army."

The jurist then sentenced him to the two-year term in the correctional institution at Danbury.

WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN RIVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Two weeks ago, Mrs. Lillie Cohn Brandon, 40, left a note in her home and disappeared. The note said she planned to commit suicide by "jumping off the Washington bridge."

Her husband and four brothers patrolled the bridge night and day for several days, but their vigil proved fruitless. Last night, Mrs. Brandon's body was found in the Hudson river near 116th street.

Capt. Marks Home With Medals Ready For Wedding Bells

Recalls Party By Proxy Stunt That Occurred In New York Last May

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Capt. Leonard P. Marks, 23-year-old flier, was home from the wars today, and the sound of wedding bells in the office promised a happy ending to his story of love.

The captain, whose chest is loaded with medals for his feats in the skies over New Guinea, popped into the news last May when he and two buddies pooled $150 and had the assistant manager of a New York hotel take out their girls on a proxy date.

Next Sunday, he and Fannie Papadellis, 22, will be married in Holy Trinity Cathedral, to climax the romance which started three years ago and was disrupted by the war.

"That party by proxy wasn't a gag," he remarked today. "To us, it was the real thing."

By "us," he meant himself and his two buddies, Capt. E. E. (Dusty) Rhodes, of Oil City, Pa., and Lt. Joseph McKean.

"It was Dusty's idea," the captain said, "and we went for it in a big way."

Said Miss Papadellis: "It was a swell time as times go, and Mr. Harold O'Brien (the hotel assistant) was a charming substitute...but a date at a hot dog counter with Leonard is better than dinner with Caviar with anyone else."

The captain has been on 110 combat missions as a fighter pilot and has been decorated with the silver star, the distinguished flying cross, the air medal and two oak leaf clusters.

Draft Dodger Teacher Is Given Seven-Year Term

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Stephen Weinberg, 50-year-old founder and faculty of a school for selective service dodgers, was fined $17,500 and sentenced to seven years in a Federal prison Monday.

"The great impersonator," as the wily Weinberg was known to U. S. authorities, also was ordered to serve five years on probation when he completes his prison term seven years hence.

He pleaded guilty several weeks ago to seven indictments charging conspiracy to violate the selective service act, growing out of what the government described as a seminary for draft dodgers in a midtown hotel. Federal Judge Murray Hulbert passed sentence.

Hitler Declares Germany Is Proving Her Worth In War

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Adolf Hitler declared Monday in Munich that "Germany is proving her worth in her most difficult struggle for existence against the armed hatred and devilish and destructive will of the bitterest and maddest enemies."

The Fuehrer spoke on the twentieth anniversary of the Munich beer hall putsch, using the old beer hall as usual for his rostrum. The watchword of the Nazi party for 1943, he declared is "our honor is loyalty."

The speech was broadcast by the Nazi agency DNB.

SAYS HE BECAME DOPE ADDICT IN PENITENTIARY

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—(INS)—John P. Isenberg, 37, of McKeesport, today told Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker, that he became a dope addict while serving a term for burglary in Western Penitentiary.

Postal inspectors contended it was to get money to buy dope that Isenberg tried to break into the Boston, Pa., post office and stole 30 letters containing $101 from a McKeesport mailbox.

Isenberg pleaded guilty to the postal charges and was sentenced to three years in a federal prison. When the convict made his startling statement, Judge Schoonmaker remarked:

"You must have had some underground method of obtaining it." Isenberg nodded his head but the jurist did not go further into the story.

Near Final Stages Of Trial Of Count

Bride of Accused Man To Be Final Witness To Be Heard In Case

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NASSAU, Nov. 9.—(INS)—The final stages of the trial of Count Alfred De Marigny for the bludgeon-torch murder of his millionaire father-in-law, Sir Harry Oakes, were expected to be reached today.

The final witness to be called by the handsome Frenchman's defense counsel will be his pretty 19-year-old bride, Nancy Oakes De Marigny, who has steadfastly proclaimed her husband guiltless in the mysterious death of her father.

Other witnesses to be summoned before the defense rests and sends the count's fate to the hands of the 12 male jurors will include servants in the De Marigny home and Leonard E. Keller, Chicago, Ill., lie detector and fingerprint expert. Keller's testimony will be confined purely to fingerprint matters, however, as lie detector evidence is not acceptable to British courts.

The defense received a serious blow yesterday, and likewise death a stiff counter-punch in the case. The blow to the Count's case came when Marquis Georges De Visdelou-Guimbeau, De Marigny's closest friend, was badly shaken in his testimony by Crown counsel.

In return defense attorney's shook the prosecution's most damaging evidence through the testimony of Maurice B. O'Neill, supervisor of the bureau of identification of New Orleans, La. O'Neill stated unequivocally that exhibit J, the alleged print of the little finger of De Marigny's right hand, did not come from the ornamental Chinese screen which was found in the murdered baronet's bedroom.

The dapper and extremely excitable young Marquis swore that De Marigny was home in their Victoria street bungalow during the hours between 1:30 and 3:30 A. M.
